

SCHOOL NEWS

Central School.

Miss Newman's first grade is enjoying a "Good Citizenship" activity. They are stressing health, honesty, kindness, courtesy and promptness both in school work and play through stories, songs, art and dramatization of real life situations. We are learning to live together.

In connection with this we are studying about workers who help us such as fireman, policeman and postman. The children have made a large freize of our helpers.

Miss Newman announces that her first grade will have a farm program called "A Party in the Hen Coop," on January 21 at, 2 p. m. All parents are cordially invited.

The fourth grade are in the midst of an interesting study of the people of the Far North. In one section of the room is a winter scene depicting Eskimo life at this season of the year. In another section of the room the summer life of the Eskimo is just as picturesquely told. The children have done all the construction work under the guidance of their teacher. In connection with this project stories and poems have been written and reading interests have also been manifold. In order that parents may enjoy this project a visiting day is being planned and will be announced soon.

The fifth and sixth grade room is making a study of Greece and her contributions to civilization. Several children have read and reported on interesting stories of old Greece and others are making soap carvings to represent certain phases of Greek life. Posters about the room made by other children represent life in early Sparta and Athens. The boys are planning an Olympic contest for physical education.

Winter scenes are much in evidence in the different rooms. A jolly snowman greeted pupils of the fifth and sixth grade room on their return to school after the holidays. He is still with them and as interesting as ever.

The sixth grade art class has been doing some very interesting winter scenes. The borders of their room are very colorful with drawings and paintings of the winter sports such as skating, skiing, sleighing, etc.

The sixth grade room is greatly interested in penmanship these days. Progress in writing is being measured by the number of writing drills accepted each week. A large chart in the front of the room indicates the progress of each pupil.
