

Cottage Grove Sentinel

VOLUME XLVIII.

(Established June 15, 1889.)

COTTAGE GROVE, LANE COUNTY, OREGON, THURSDAY, APRIL 7, 1938.

NUMBER 34.

C. Eugene Ingalls, who writes for a Corvallis paper, speaks of the pin wheels who seek the republican nomination for governor. Some of them do remind one of the Fourth of July contrivance whose fiery sputtering sends it around in a circle.

Portland is reported to have one automobile for every 2.75 persons. The fraction probably is necessary to care for those who have been in traffic accidents.

The boy whom Ripley pictured doing his writing upside down probably isn't many years ahead of his time.

The hydrothermograph office of the government at Des Moines has been having trouble with blonde hairs, which are part of the mechanism used in measuring humidity. Heretofore the uninitiated have believed that blonde hairs made humidity.

Chasing around to keep out of the way of hit-and-run drivers makes our dogs tired.

Herbert Hoover says there is no immediate danger of a conflagration in Europe. Anyway, he's not promoting a job as food administrator.

Charles W. Hope, regional director for the national labor relations board, started on an extended vacation trip April 1. We hope he's not fooling us.

When you feel desperate, think what your condition might be if you were a Jew in Austria—Hood River News. Or a republican in Washington.

Those who like their drinks slightly spiked may be just getting their iron.

Modest and self-effacing Ole O. Olen lays claim to having saved the state $14,500.00 during his two terms in the legislature. He will not be there next term, and that's worth another fourteen and a half millions.

Oregon Journal deprecates the lack of humor in the world, probably not stopping to think that it might be responsible for the condition deplored.

News item tells of a man who broke one of his wife's ribs hugging her. That's better than breaking her heart by not hugging her.

A magazine recently printed 30 pictures of one movie actress, and still didn't show quite all of her.

A device is on the market that amplifies every sound in any room in which it is placed. So that's what the candidates have been listening to.

We hear a lot about postage stamp rates for Bonneville power, but no one has yet said anything about the denomination.

Uncle Sam has 80 wild animal trappers employed in Oregon, and a proportionate number in other states, but the trouble is the things happening at Washington made 'em wild faster than the trappers can trap 'em.

"Bob Burns Glad New Baby Girl" a startling headline informs us. That isn't as bad as it reads when one learns that the second word is a movie actor's name instead of a verb.

In the battle between AFofL and CIO the IOU'S are likely to win.

The new feminine headgear that permits a woman to see with only part of one eye is likely to cause a lot of traffic accidents. When one sees the way the dear girls have to twist their heads around and up to see what is in front of them, he suspects a chiropractor must have invented the headgear as a business promotion idea.

Representative Lemke, North Dakota republican, proposes to help balance the budget by reducing the number of congressmen from 435 to 138. We won't need any of 'em when we get the administration reorganization bill.

A million letters probably went to Washington for and against the administration reorganization bill. Could it be that shrewd Jim Farley starts these controversies in order to boost postage sales?

Motion Picture Cooking School To Open at Diane Monday, 1:30

Many Valuable Attendance Prizes to Be Offered By Co-operating Firms.

Lock the doors and come to town.

The Sentinel's motion picture cooking school entitled "Star in My Kitchen," will be the real community attraction for three days at the Diane theatre starting Monday, April 11 at 1:30 p. m.

This fascinating and different cooking school is open entirely free to every woman in the community and The Sentinel as well as Cottage Grove merchants extend this last invitation to join in the home-making lessons and jolly entertainment for at least one day.

The Motion Picture Cooking School will be a practical rally of home-makers to contribute fresh perspective for the "same old job," the monotonous day-after-day job, yet the most important business in the world. Just as men have their annual conventions, where they listen to lectures from specialists, local women will have their convention to consider home-making problems.

Just as fresh inspiration for the old job is one of the by-products of the familiar cooking school, which presents a lecturer in a model kitchen, so are new ideas and keen incentive born in the film class for home-makers, with its novel approach and modern setting.

No "false-front" camera-beautiful kitchens satisfied these specialists. They insisted on working in complete, compact, modern kitchens, which actually reflect more scientific ingenuity and careful planning than any living room.

Recognizing the demands of home experts, the producers of "Star in My Kitchen" signed all-star kitchens, with an all-star cast, adding a continual procession of close-ups, so that every seat in the Diane is a good seat for this amazingly-pictured home-making course.

Everyday happenings have been dramatized in the plot of "Star in My Kitchen." Behind the sparkling humor and suspense that are so necessary to screen stories was a deliberate plan—an ambitious determination to carry instruction, inspiration, and worthwhile home news to women in every community.

The camera took its time and it took its close-ups, so that every person in the theatre will have a "large as life, and twice as natural" view of each operation. There will be no "orchestra circle" at this entertainment, since the back row guests of The Sentinel will have an equal chance to peer into the busy mixing bowl, watching the deft steps of measuring, creaming, sifting, and thorough mixing, not overlooking the final work of baking, roasting, French-frying, or freezing.

For this is no half-hearted demonstration. Each delicious dish will be completed and shown with such realism that there are sure to be hungry "ohs" and "ahs" from the audience. If any stray husbands get into the theater, they are certain to ask, "When do we eat?"

Keeping up-to-the-minute on fresh discoveries to ease the home manager's burdens, is one of the jobs of the household specialists who supervised the demonstrations in this profitable cooking school. Because they have devoted years of training and study to home problems, these capable experts know how to help other housekeepers to run their homes more smoothly, interestingly and economically. Under the glow of their enthusiasm and creative skill, a well-cooked meal becomes elevated from "just a job" to an artistic achievement, requiring skill and imagination.

Not only does this picture show new dishes, styles, and interesting ways to serve everyday meals and party feasts, but it demonstrates how to make intelligent use of the ingenious mechanical servants that take the guess work out of house work.

What about recipes? Naturally every guest of The Sentinel will want to test these tantalizing recipes for menu monotony. Free recipe sheets will be distributed daily. And other things will be given away—valuable gifts that will find long and useful life in many a home.

Guests at the school will want to meet and remember the friendly local firms and nationally-known products that are helping The Sentinel in this community undertaking.

Does your house run you? If so, why not accept The Sentinel's invitation to join in the neighborly cooking school party, starting Monday, April 11 at 1:30 p. m. at the Diane.

Remember the dates and opening hour: Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and remember, attendance prizes, absolutely free, totaling more than $100 in values.

Local merchants who have contributed a total of $200 in merchandise for attendance prizes at "Star in My Kitchen" include: Ernest's Dress Shop, Bartels Market, Bressler's, Brisbane Electric, Finnerty's Blossom Shop, Graber Gettys, Grove Hardware, Gustafson's Ice Cream store, Irish Swartz, Kelly Drug Company, Ken's for Drugs, McLaughlin's Furniture Store, Men's Toggery, Kent's Market, Nelson Electric, Ocumpaugh's Grocery, Quality Market, Safeway Store, Smith-Short and Humphrey-Mackin. Manufacturers cooperating include: Lever Brothers Co., Pillsbury Flour Mills Co., Fruit Dispatch Co., Thomas J. Lipton, Inc., Frigidaire Corporation, Quaker Oats Co., and Kraft Phenix Cheese corporation. The Foley Mfg. Co., have also supplied attendance prizes.

HOLY WEEK SERVICES

Union church services for Holy Week will be held in the Methodist Episcopal church. The following ministers will deliver sermons on the days and hours mentioned below:

Monday, 7:30—Rev. Thayer of the Nazarene church.

Tuesday, 7:30—Rev. Edwards of the Free Methodist church.

Wednesday, 7:30—Junior High sacred cantata with a short message by Rev. Davis of the Baptist church.

Thursday, 7:30—Rev. Tilton of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Friday, 7:30—Union communion service with Rev. Smith of the Presbyterian church in charge.

Weather Report for arch.

The weather report for March, as furnished by C. E. Stewart, local weather observer, is as follows: Mean maximum, 53.3; mean minimum, 36.4; mean, 44.8; maximum, 66; minimum, 28; precipitation, 8.5 inches; clear days, 3; part cloudy, 9; cloudy, 19; snowfall, 4 inch.

Along the Fairways

Rain or shine, warm or cold weather, you can see Golfers swinging their clubs along the fairways in an effort to "master the game."

One of the most unusual plays of the week was made by Earl Hill. In nearing the eighth green he sank his approach shot,—not in the cup,—but in the caretaker's pocket! It is hard to say who was the most surprised.

Mrs. S. Dunlop, who has been playing only a short time, made a Birdie on the fourth hole Monday. In the pouring down rain, too.

What is comedy for one may be tragedy for the other was proved last Sunday. A certain foursome, playing in the pouring rain started down the hill toward the Creek on the second hole. One of the foursome slipped, sliding all the way down in the mud. It was hard to tell whether he was tobogganing, playing leap frog or just lying down because he was tired. Anyway it was comedy to the three on top of the hill, but some how it didn't seem quite so funny to the one at the foot. Which goes to prove it all depends on the angle from which you see a thing.

The men forged ahead of the women this week in the membership contest. Come on, ladies, let's get busy. Remember the losers have to treat the winners. The men signed up four this week.

Mr. French's dog must know that Easter is just around the corner, as he was seen chasing a rabbit along the fairways recently. Or could it be he was after a new specimen for his master's Biology class? Anyhow, the rabbit won the race.

There were three foursomes playing in the putting contest on Ladies day of this week. Mrs. Savage won the golf ball with 17 puts. Mrs. French and Mrs. Hill tied for second place with eighteen. The tees going to Mrs. Hill after the final play off. It was perfect weather for Golf and we would like to have more ladies come out next Wednesday at one o'clock and join us.

Boost Cottage Grove Banquet Scheduled

Plans of Business Promotion Committee To Be Released At Dinner Late Next Week

Buy, Boost and Build Cottage Grove. These six words appear to be the theme around which the business promotion committee of the chamber of commerce will launch an extensive program with a "kick-off" banquet tentatively scheduled for late next week, according to an announcement made today by H. E. Eakin, chamber of commerce president.

The business promotion committee, headed by Fred Knickerbocker, has held two lengthy sessions during the past week, in which suggested programs for promoting the general welfare of the community have been discussed from all angles. Several proposed projects are under consideration, and it appears likely that the business men of Cottage Grove will get behind the most aggressive campaign for the promotion of the general welfare of the community that the city has seen in years. The Lions club of this city is also sponsoring a clean-up campaign that will probably be developed into a city beautification program that will work in well with the program sponsored by the business promotion committee.

The "fireworks" that launched the program was the release two weeks ago of figures indicating that residents of Cottage Grove annually spend in excess of one-half million dollars in currency outside their home town.

The banquet scheduled for next week (definite date to be announced later) is open to everyone—residents of the city and surrounding area. Arrangements are being made to secure a speaker of note for this occasion, and it promises to be an event of importance that everyone with the welfare of this community at heart should attend.

The business promotion committee and others interested in its program, who met recently include: Fred Knickerbocker, H. E. Eakin, A. W. Helliwell, J. R. Blalock, Vinal Randall, Carl Rynearson, Cleo Morelock, Lorin Schroeder, C. J. Kern, and L. E. Brisbane.

Track Meet Won By Senior Class

Track season for Cottage Grove high school was ushered in last Friday when the seniors won the annual interclass track meet on Kelly field with 662-3 points. The sophomores were second with 292-3, juniors third with 24 points while the freshmen collected 22-3 points to place fourth.

Lamm of the seniors was high point man with 25 points. He had done very little track work until this year but will no doubt prove to be one of the main point makers for the Lions. Other promising material uncovered at the meet Friday was Wesley Stewart, Ginz Palmer, Frank Rone, freshmen; Billy Spies, Billy Earl, sophomores, and Roy Guggisberg, junior.

Several interclass records took a tumble when new marks were posted in the broad jump at 18 feet, four inches; discus 98 feet 2 inches; relay 1:45.4; high hurdles 17.4.

Meets scheduled so far for this year are as follows: Dual meet with Roseburg; Hayward relays, Eugene; Triangle meet with Eugene high, University high and Cottage Grove; Willamette Valley meet, Salem; district meet, Eugene, and state meet at Corvallis.

PAGEANT SUNDAY NIGHT

A pageant, "The Challenge of the Cross," will be presented by young people of the Methodist church Sunday night at the 7:30 service. This is Palm Sunday and the beginning of Passion Week. Everyone who has no church home is invited to come. The members of the cast include Mrs. Howard Taylor as the evangelist, Harry Sturges, Montana Crosssett, Dorothy Siemann, Ellis Decker, Ted Scott, Betty Adkins as disciples, and Sarajane Moore, Marian Moore and Harold Reynolds.

"The Pot of Gold at the End of the Rainbow" was the subject of Rev. James A. Smith's sermon at the Sunday morning service at the Presbyterian church, which the Rainbow Girls of Cottage Grove attended in a body. Special music by the choir was a feature of the service.

Junior High Easter Cantata April 15th

The Junior High mixed chorus of approximately 75 members will present an Easter cantata at the M. E. church Wednesday, April 13, at 8 p. m. This will be open to the public and everyone is cordially invited to attend.

The cantata to be presented is "Christ Victorious" and has music of extreme beauty and vitality. The four solo voices singing in the cantata are Betty Powell, Dorothy Safley, Joyce Baldwin and Vivian Lukens.

To add significance and dignity to the occasion the entire chorus will be dressed in black robes with white collars.

Cooper, Rente, Hall And Heck Break 25

Local Trapshoot Team Wins Four Matches in Competition Sunday.

The eagle eyes of the Cottage Grove Rod and Gun club trapshoot addicts, really got down to business Sunday, with a perfect 75, an extra 25 and two 24's in reserve for good measure. Kelly Cooper, Harry Rente and Charles Hall turned the trick, each with 25 straight on the local grounds, while Ed Heck, shooting at Dexter, carded another 25, in case it was needed. Lloyd Barber and Jeff Ensley turned in cards of 24. The good shooting brought the local team four victories, and placed them among the ten high teams of the northwest, in the Oregonian's telegraphic trapshoot. The local team has won 12 and lost eight matches, for a percentage of .600. But 12 men competed for the team Sunday, and these men broke 272 of the 300 birds they fired at (in the telegraphic shoot) for an average of 22.6 per man, or slightly better than 90 per cent, which is nothing to be ashamed of in any company.

Other scores Sunday in the 20's were: N. J. Nelson 23, Carl Rynearson and Pete Anlauf 22, Dick Smith and Weldon Hileman 21. The latter shot his string at Dexter. Kelly Cooper made it a day by breaking 72 out of 75, Rente broke 55 out of 57, and Ensley 48 out of 50. Barring the unexpected, the local team should place well up among the 15 teams of the northwest who are to compete in a shootoff at Portland for regional honors.

New Pastor Christian Church Will Preach First Sermon Sunday

Reverend E. L. Kechley, the new pastor of the First Christian church and Mrs. Kechley have moved into the church parsonage. Their oldest son, Elwyn, who is on his way to San Francisco, is with them for a few days.

Rev. Kechley has been in the ministry for 35 years and was pastor of the First Christian church in Wenatchee, Wash., for 20 years. The Kechleys have two other sons attending the University of Washington. Ralph, who is up for his master's degree this year, is also a graduate of Washington State. The youngest son, Gerald, aged 19, is a freshman at the University and is majoring in music, especially vocal music. Although only a freshman he has recently been elected one of the 10 members of an honor organization in music known as the Madrigals.

Rev. Kechley will preach his first sermon in the Christian church Sunday morning. He has chosen as his subject "The Lord Hath Need."

4-H LEADERS MEETING

The district meeting of the 4-H Leaders' association will hold their regular monthly meeting in Cottage Grove next Tuesday evening. S. T. Rose, district chairman, will be in charge of the meeting and demonstrations and judging will be the main topic for round-table discussion. There will also be a discussion regarding the Lane County Achievement Day fair to be held in Eugene on May 7, at which time all of the work done during the year will be exhibited at the county 4-H building at the fairgrounds.

Dr. A. W. Kime, who recently underwent an operation in a Eugene hospital, is now at his home here and is recovering satisfactorily.

J. Shinn Called By Grim Reaper

The Judge On the Street and Attended Legal Matters The Day Before He Passed On

The "grim reaper" death has again visited our city and claimed one of our most loved and highly respected citizens. Judge Henry Jackson Shinn, 82, who had practiced law here for the past 27 years, died Friday, April 1. He was on the street the day before his death and attended to some legal matters on that day.

Judge Shinn was born in Moulton, Ia., in 1855, and had practiced law for 55 years, before which time he taught school. He served four years as judge at Custer county Nebraska. Mr. and Mrs. Shinn came to Oregon 27 years ago from Broken Bow, Nebr. Ann Shuttun Shinn, his wife, died here in 1917.

Surviving are a son Charles Shinn of Wichita Falls, Tex.; three daughters, Mrs. William Thum of this city; Mrs. James Herman of Santa Ana, Cal., and Mrs. Thad Grabow of San Francisco; five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

He was a member of the Masonic lodge, the I.O.O.F., Rebekahs, Order of Eastern Star and Knights of Pythias. He served on the school board for 12 years, and as chairman a greater part of this time. Always interested in youth and its problems he took great pleasure in having teachers and pupils come to his office with their problems and would offer his solutions, not alone from a legal but from a humanitarian standpoint.

He would not deviate from a course after he had carefully thought out and chosen his plan of action. In other words, he would fight for what he thought was right.

He preferred moral standards to legal standards when there was a conflict between the two. To put it differently he would not seek or use a legal technicality in favor of a client when the moral issue prompted him to decide in its favor.

He worked with school and civic problems without hope of fee or reward, simply because he liked to do it for the public good, giving his time and talents graciously. He gave of his time and talents professionally to those who could not afford to pay and has been known to have taken care of minor costs in order to assist poor clients who had a just cause of action.

Cottage Grove is fortunate in having had for the past 27 years the example and influence of a life such as that led by Judge Shinn.

Lane County Chapter Of Red Cross Reports Its March Activities

The monthly report of the Lane county chapter of the Red Cross shows that 54 veterans and their families were assisted during the month of March and 32 civilian and one service case.

Three special and 19 standard certificates were received by members of the class in first aid which was conducted here several weeks ago.

Plans were made for the National Red Cross conference at San Francisco May 2 to 5. It is the first time this conference has been held on the west coast.

April 6 the Lane county chapter came of age. Twenty-one years ago on this date a letter was written by a committee of Eugene citizens to national headquarters asking for a charter.

Bagley and Anlauf Win Inch Tourney

Orlo Bagley and Pete Anlauf tied for first place with a net 27 in the inch tournament at the local golf club grounds Sunday. They won out over a field of 18.

"We'll hold a flag tourney next Sunday," Earl Hill, club president announces. "We want every one out for this tournament, and want their score cards turned in before the tourney starts, in order that new handicaps may be figured."

The club has a new groundskeeper in the person of Virgil Bush, and has the largest membership in several years.
