Ushers were Margaret Bressler, Gerry Kem, Virginia King, Arline Anderson.

The kitchen committee consisted of Lois Hansen and Betty Chapman.

Marian Notvedt is entertaining the senior girls with a garden tea Saturday afternoon at the Roy Short home. Musical selections will be given by the girls trio, Doris Mae Blalock, Jean Savage and Patty Short, a solo by Pat Baldwin, and piano selections by Frances Hughes.

Examinations will be held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week. School closes June 3.

Coilers Return Home Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Coiler and children Marjorie and Tom returned Sunday from Spokane, Wash., where Mr. Coiler attended a water works convention and Mrs. Coiler visited relatives. Mr. Coiler, city engineer and recorder, reports an interesting convention and a visit to the large Spokane hydro-electric plant. They also went to Bonneville dam. They came from Spokane to Cottage Grove, a distance of about 585 miles, in one day, leaving Spokane in their car about 6 a. m. and arriving here about 11 p. m.

Andrew Jackson Burleson.

Andrew Jackson Burleson died at his home at Saginaw Tuesday afternoon, May 17. He was born at Kerrville, Tex., October 10, 1860. He was married in 1883 to Mary Larremore at Seven Rivers, N. W. He is survived by his widow and five children, Mrs. Myrtle Prine, Jesse Burleson, and J. Burleson of Saginaw; Mrs. Rachel Robbins of Vernonia; Mrs. Della Kyle, Phoenix, Ariz.; two sisters, Mrs. Mollie Crenshaw and Mrs. Dora Buchanan, Leaky, Tex.; one brother, Alfred Burleson of Sonora, Tex.; four grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. The family has lived at Saginaw since 1923, coming from Santa Rita, N. M.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon, May 20, at 2:30 at Mills chapel. Rev. H. W. Davis officiated. Interment was at Masonic I.O.O.F. cemetery.

Ice Boxes on Ships
Ice boxes on ships date back to 1856. Shipboard refrigeration came into use in the Campania and Lucania. Cunarders, in 1893.

Nelsons Going to Convention.

Postmaster and Mrs. N. J. Nelson and son Bob are planning to attend the state convention of the National Association of Postmasters to be held at Baker June 3 and 4. Undoubtedly N. J. will be the pep song leader as usual, so if you hear a low mellifluous sound floating down from the northeastern part of the state during the dates mentioned do not be alarmed, the shock will not be greatly felt here and those Democratic postmasters are, or should be by this time, shock proof and like the Lions club of Cottage Grove, have learned to take it and like it when N. J. tunes up his vocal cords.

Energy From Heat

Practically any kind of energy is the product of heat in some form or other. It is admitted that the most rarified fuel known to man is gas, the economies of which are admitted when all things are taken into consideration. When raw coal is burned to produce heat, only 10 to 15 per cent efficiency is obtained. In using coal to make gas, 80 per cent efficiency is obtained.

Early Advice on Oxen

Twenty-seven centuries ago, the Greek poet Hesiod, in his "Works and Days," the oldest-known work upon agriculture, gave this advice as to the oxen on the farm: "For draught and yoking together, nine-year-old oxen are best, because, being past the mischievous and frolicsome age, they are not likely to break the pole and leave the plowing in the middle."

Gas Gas All Time

Mrs. Jas. Adler says: "Gas on my stomach was so bad I couldn't eat or sleep. Gas even pressed on my heart. Adlerika brought me quick relief. Now, I eat as I wish, sleep fine, never felt better."

Scotland's Inland Lochs
In Scotland the word "loch" can mean either "lake," or an arm of the sea akin to the Norwegian "fjord." The inland lochs are Loch Lomond or Loch Ness to little nameless lochs high up in the hills.

Moslems in China
A large number of Moslems have lived in China for many generations and are almost indistinguishable from other Chinese; but they still persist in regarding themselves as foreigners there.
