26 Girl Scouts Back From Camp at Rujada

Twenty-six happy girl scouts returned from their camp at Rujada last Friday evening, after spending five days close to nature on one of the most successful camping trips sponsored by the local girl scout organization.

The girls were chaperoned by Mrs. William Veelman, Mrs. K. M. Bird and Mrs. Earl Baldwin. Mrs. Georg Bjorset also spent some time at the camp. Five older girls, Betty Jean McCoy, Geraldine Kern, Ann Peterson, Jean Savage and Margaret Bressler, counselors, were in charge of activities, handicraft work, and acted as life guards.

Girls attending the camp were: Betty Jane Caviness, Dorothy Jean Jackson, Phyllis Baldwin, June Bird, Helen Bird, Helen Roberts, Marie Lombard, Joyce Clark, Dottie Ann Clark, Donna Clark, Janet Rynearson, Shirley Culver, Shirley Woodard, Doris and Sara Bjorset, Patsy Zimmerly, Janet Peterson, Marian Turner, Lucille Veelman, Mary Goddard, Abigail Trask, Lois Weldon, Chloris Roberts, Arletta Roberts, Juanita Powell and Margory Earl.

The girls were divided into five patrols, each with a counselor. The patrols took turns doing the various camp duties: Cooking, dishwashing, table setting, wood and fires and grounds. The camp day was divided as follows: Reveille, 7 a. m.; colors, 7:15; swimming, 7:30 to 8; breakfast, 8:30; capers, 9:15; crafts, 10 to 12; lunch, 12:30; capers; rest hour 2 to 3; swimming, 3 to 4; dinner, 6; capers; campfire, 7:30; taps, 9. This program was varied Wednesday by a hike to Rujada Point Lookout and Thursday a tea given by Mrs. H. E. D. Brown.
