Martha Arnold, Acting Editor

Five Home Economics girls, Lillian Geer, Lura Wilson, Mary McKibben, Maxine Ewing, and Martha Arnold, rubbed sleepy eyes Saturday morning. The girls were compelled to start at 5:30 for the Home Economics convention at Grants Pass which began at 9:30.

The girls received a very cordial welcome upon arrival and began a tour of the high school and grounds. "Brunch" was served after which the girls gathered at the morning assembly. A welcoming speech was given by M. B. Winslow, superintendent, of Grants Pass schools. Lillian Geer of Cottage Grove gave the response. Mrs. R. W. Clark of the Grants Pass college club spoke on "Home Making Today." Following group singing the assembly divided and discussed problems of the average high school girl. After the luncheon, which was served by the boys' Home Ec class, numerous members of the group displayed their talents in a prepared program.

The Grants Pass club performed the initiation ceremony. Games concluded the program of the day.

Girls' League nominees for office for next year were announced at the girls' league council meeting March 31, as follows: President, Miriam Ferrin, Gladys Lemley, Margaret Monson; vice president, Pat Baldwin, Velma Wilson, Peggy Sharp; secretary, Janet Peterson, Faye Nixon, Ruth Davenport; treasurer, Lois Hanson, Arline Anderson, Viola Harriman, Jean Savage, Geraldine Kem and Miriam Ferrin were appointed general chairmen for May day committees. Several committees were appointed to be in charge of Girls' League dance, which will be held Friday night in the gym. Jean Savage, Miriam Ferrin were selected to attend the Girls' League conference April 22 at Corvallis. The new Girls' League president and Miss Hayes and Miss Tidemanson will accompany the delegates.

The seniors unexpectedly pulled away from the sophomores in the last event of the track meet to win by a margin of 22 1/2 points in the inter-class track meet held March 31 on Kelly field.

The seniors piled up a total of 53 points, the sophomores 30 1/2, the freshmen 30 1/2, and the juniors 26. The juniors were handicapped by the loss of Davenport. Blake led the scoring field with 22 points.

A new broad jump record was set by Blake, but will not be official because of the ruling set a few years ago which does not allow a letterman to compete in any event which he has previously made points in or to break any inter-class records.

Lois Baldwin, a senior, recently received word that one of her poems, "A Reverie," was selected to be printed in "The World's Fair Anthology."

The purpose of the Exposition Press, publishers of the Anthology, is to popularize poetry, and to publicize and perpetuate the individual efforts of worth-while poets.

The World's Fair Anthology will find a place in an untold number of libraries, schools, etc. The writers contributing to this publication will be qualified for consideration in a $100 prize contest.

The three numbers by the senior girls' trio, Betty Jones, Patty Short and Dorismae Blalock, at a miscellaneous talent contest sponsored by the Lions club April 6 and 8, at the Eugene hotel, were chosen along with about 14 others to be repeated in a final contest Tuesday, April 11, at McArthur Court. This contest, Tuesday, decided the final winners of the $50, $25 and $10 prizes. The girls were accompanied by Pat Baldwin.

Shell Offers Fair Visitors Service

Local residents who visit the California World's Fair this year will find an efficient mail, telegram and message service set up for their use without charge. Announcement of this unique travel convenience, accompanied by an invitation to make full use of it, was made here today by the local manager for Shell Oil Company.

"Many local residents no doubt will go to the Golden Gate International Exposition on San Francisco Bay without knowing in advance where they expect to stay," the Shell manager said. "Others will want to get their mail and telegrams at some central location downtown. All are invited to make their headquarters at the office of Shell Touring Service, 102 Bush Street, San Francisco, and to have all their correspondence sent to that address. Return address should be put on each letter."

"The Shell Touring Service office is in the heart of the business district, just one block from the Bay Bridge passenger terminal. Complete sightseeing information is offered free of charge and the office maintains a housing bureau where exposition visitors can obtain information about rooms in hotels, apartment houses, auto courts and private homes."
