Continued lack of moisture has brought on more talk of irrigation and its possibilities, even in sections where farming is done on a rather small scale. Dry weather will bring about revolutionary methods of farming if people continue to farm and we shall see more and more types of irrigation introduced.

The sprinkling system seems to be the favorite method for this section of the country, although it is costly. The method adapted of course depends on the character of the soil, but a few local farmers are successful in using the flooding method.

It has been suggested and we think appropriately that local organizations who do welfare work might combine their efforts and do a more effective job. As mentioned in the Sentinel of last week, there is never a day passes but that some individual is asked for the price of a meal or aid in some form and it is up to the individual to judge the merit of the particular case, since no investigation is attempted by an agency.

Newspapers over the northwest are being flooded with stories and propaganda from the Bonneville dam administration. Rarely a day passes but that we receive from one to two press releases on some phase of the Bonneville dam. The great trouble is of course if we attempted to print anything like all of the material sent us, there would be little room for any local or state news.

The American Association for the Advancement of Science proposes to conduct an impartial survey of the "problems of alcohol." First on the list of problems is the man who insists he can take it or leave it, and proves it by taking it.—The Houghton Line.

It is strange that in these days of woman's emancipation and independence there is hardly an unmarried girl who knows how to wash her own hair.

It is estimated that one dollar out of every five earned by the working man goes for taxes, not counting the taxes which keep him from earning more than five dollars.

When times are bad, business gets the blame; when they are good, politicians take the credit.

Dorena Observes Grange Sunday

The Dorena Grange met in regular session Thursday with 50 members and eight visitors present.

Allen Wheeler, Pomona grange master, was heartily greeted and spoke briefly concerning the Bonneville Power Project and urged members to study the question of the special election and to give it their careful consideration. Mr. Wheeler also complimented the grange on its progressiveness and stability.

Other visitors present were: Miles Wicks, master of the Creswell grange, and Mrs. Wicks; Ray Bowers, master of Four Oaks grange, and Mrs. Bowers, chairman of the Pomona Home Ec committee; Mr. Holderson, master of Central grange, and Mrs. Holderson, Pomona secretary. In brief remarks the visitors complimented the Dorena grange on the progressive spirit in evidence.

Worthy Chaplain Mrs. Anna Rissue, reported that Mrs. Joe Schneider is expected to return home from the hospital this week. Two new members, Mrs. Ida Garoutte and Orval Horner, were given the first and second degree obligations.

Worthy Overseer Robert Wagner announced that the young grangers association meets the last Monday evening of each month. An evening of fun was announced for Saturday.

Mrs. Bettis, chairman of Home Economics committee, announced there were 859 sales slips turned in last month. The next regular meeting of the club will be an all day meeting with covered dish luncheon at noon.

H. E. D. Brown of the forestry service announced that James Walker of Lane county forestry patrol will instruct in fire prevention during the next regular session of grange.

Preceding the regular session of the grange a capacity house greeted the Waldo Davis family, who gave an hour's entertainment. Hershell Davis' vocal numbers were well received as were the readings of his sister, Mrs. Myron Backwell of Creswell. Waldo Davis played several selections on the golden chimes. He also played several selections on water glasses. The family numbers on the piano, violin and guitar were well received.

Mrs. Davis, accompanied by her son at the piano, and daughter with violin, gave a number of dialogues and songs. She and her son sang "Oregon, My Oregon," written by her brother, Henry DeMoss, and was especially enjoyed as Mrs. Davis is the last of the original DeMoss family and they had sung this selection at every program throughout the world. The family has traveled widely, having given concerts in every state in the union and in Canada. They were educated in Europe where they paid their expenses with their concerts. Mrs. Davis was particularly pleasing with her selections on the bells.

Grange Sunday
Sunday Dorena and Silk Creek granges met together at Dorena hall to observe National Grange Sunday. A large crowd gathered around well filled tables for dinner at one o'clock at which time Worthy Master Loren Hunt presided as toast-master. Later an appropriate program arranged by Lecturer Mrs. Lee Smith was given. The program was as follows: Trumpet solo, R. G. Dykstra, accompanied by Miss Hughes; solo, Wendell Small, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Small; duet, Mrs. Jennings and Mrs. Dodge, accompanied by Mrs. Lee Smith. Messrs Dykstra and Finnerty played a trumpet duet followed by a sermon by the Rev. Edward Kechley, pastor of the Cottage Grove Christian church. His sermon topic was, "Lo a Sower Went Forth to Sow." The Rev. Hocker of Disston church pronounced the benediction.

The nervous passenger approached the captain timidly. "What would happen," she asked, "if we struck a large iceberg?" "The iceberg would pass along as if nothing had happened," replied the captain. And the old lady was very much relieved.

One hundred and two law students have applied to take the state bar examinations to be given in Salem July 11 and 12.

Local Golfers Defeat Coquille Club 60-24

Paced by Cleo Morelock, the Cottage Grove golfers defeated the Coquille Country club here Sunday 60 to 24. This was the second time the two clubs have met this season and Cottage Grove won both matches. Approximately 100 players and visitors were here Sunday from Coquille. Morelock shot par around the course twice to establish a new record and many other local players had their best day afield. O. S. Adams and DeYoung tied for scoring honors for the visitors with 82 each. Zimmerly of the locals shot under par the first round, and Denson shot two under par the second round.

Fairs and fiestas galore—hundreds of them—will lure motorists by the millions through the scenic grandeur and highway perfection of the Pacific states this spring and summer. The vast cavalcade will surpass all previous records in travel frequency and numbers, say reports reaching Mobilgas marketers.

To California's magnificent world's fair, on Treasure Island, San Francisco; to more than 200 Golden Anniversary spectacles in as many cities of Washington; to hundreds of fairs, pageants, festivals and dramatic rodeos of Oregon, Arizona, California and Nevada, will roar a predicted eight million cars.

As never before, Americans will awake to the scenic wonders and innumerable advantages of this nature-favored region. Summerizing marks the start of this great travel epoch, when the west is once more aglow with the indomitable spirit of pioneer days. Practically all local motorists are planning trips to take in one or more of the celebrations.
