State Fair Premiums To Exceed $54,000

Premium awards and purses offered at the 1939 state fair, which opens Labor day at Salem, will be in excess of $54,000, Fair Manager Leo Spitzbart, announces. The bulk of the monies, about $39,000, will go to exhibitors in the livestock, farm products, floral, homemaking, art and junior departments. Premium lists for all interested are available by writing the state fair, Salem.

Awards for the night horse show events will total nearly $4,500 and purses for the afternoon running races will reach $10,000.

In addition to the cash awards put up by the fair management, winners of top prizes will receive special awards offered by the Shire Horse association, the Percheron Horse association of America, American Hereford association, American Aberdeen-Angus association, American Shorthorn Breeders association, Red Polled Cattle Club of America, American Guernsey Cattle Club, American Hampshire association, American Oxford Down Record association, National Suffolk Sheep association, the American Milk Goat Record association, American Goat Society, United Duroc Record association, the American Poultry association. Specials for the homemaking divisions are offered by the General Foods Sales Co., Inc., Kerr Glass Manufacturing corporation and the National Crochet Bureau.

A record in early fair entries was set this month when first livestock entries were made before July 20 by Avon Yoder, Beaver Creek swine breeder, and Paul Talbot, Canyonville sheep breeder.

Also, an exceptionally large machinery exhibit for farmers is already definitely assured, as this space was virtually all contracted before mid-July. Many of these exhibitors have increased size of their show, making it necessary for the fair to allot additional grounds to them.
