Oldest Form of Gambling

The Encyclopedia of Sports says that the oldest form of gambling is with dice, which were known to earliest civilization. Recently there was dug out of ancient Mesopotamia a pair of dice at least 50 centuries old, still in good enough state of preservation to be used for gambling today. Most of the tombs along the ancient Nile have produced dice, some accompanied by cups and boards.

Thranert School of Dancing

HELEN THRANERT, Instructor
Complete Instructions in Tap, Acrobatic, Ballet and Ball Room Dancing at Reasonable Prices.
Located 817 Willamette Street in Eugene, Oregon. Telephone 2923-W.

The art of dancing is today regarded by we Americans as a national pastime and recreation is best evidenced by the statement that no social event, no party or affair is considered a success unless dancing is enjoyed. It has justly been said that today the person who does not dance misses one-half of the pleasure and satisfaction to be had from life. And rightfully so — because dancing brings people together with one great common interest, it broadens their outlook on life, it affords them exercise and makes them graceful.

The Dance and Expression Studio teaches both sexes, young and old alike, in this greatest of all arts, dancing. Here classes are held for the beginner, who has never danced a step in his or her life. The instructors are recognized artists and the lessons are so simple and so easily to learn that all pupils are loud in their praise for the studio and for the results they accomplish.

The studio does more than teach beginners, however, they have classes for advanced pupils, classes for the dancer who wishes to improve his or her style—or learn the latest dances and steps. They teach all types of dancing such as Tap, Acrobatic, Ballet, Toe and Ball Room all with equal efficiency.

For those who prefer, private lessons are given by appointment, the prices are most reasonable.
