Large Crowd Sees Softball Opening

(Bachelard and Harpole)

Cottage Grove softball players no longer have to dash home from work, jump into a uniform and hurry over to the field for a couple of innings of ball before darkness calls a halt. Cottage Grove now has a lighted field and can play ball all hours of the night.

In the grand opener Friday night a crowd of more than 650 spectators witnessed the parade and opening ceremonies. The crowd was treated to some fast action as all nine teams in the league saw action in a short game.

The first regularly scheduled league game Monday night saw Quality Market run over the Culp Creek team by a 15 to 3 score. With Tilton striking out 15, and Griggs banging out 3 hits, one a triple with the bags loaded, the "Butchers" had little trouble with the Culp Creek team.

In the second game of the evening Gustafson's "Cream Puffs" out-scored the Eagles in a free-scoring game 11 to 7. The Cream Puffs scored 6 runs in the first inning after two men were out and were never headed. Johnson hit a homer for the Eagles in the 6th inning.

Norman Moen, Creswell south-paw hurler, treated softball fans to six innings of no hit ball but finally weakened in the last inning to give up five hits and as many runs to the Grove Hardware Wednesday night. The final score was 11 to 5 for Creswell. Grove Hardware team pulled a triple play in the sixth inning.

In the nightcap Kinckerbockers and Dorena staged a game of errors with Knicks coming out on top of a 15 to 9 score.

The short score:

City's Population May Show Increase

Although the unofficial population of the city has been announced as 2,610 by the Eugene office of the census bureau, local officials are still hopeful of getting the total raised to over 3,000. L. C. Schroeder, president of the Chamber of Commerce, has asked that all citizens who know of people who were not enumerated by the census bureau to report such people to their local mail carriers.

"This seems to be the only way that we can get an accurate check on those people who were not enumerated in the census count," said Mr. Schroeder.

There seems to be plenty of evidence that there are as many as 500 people who have not been counted and consequently are not listed in the city's total population. Mail carriers have reported many families that have not been counted and one family alone numbered ten.

Although Cottage Grove has a "finally become a city" according to one of the county newspapers the local Chamber is anxious to get the cooperation of all local citizens in helping to raise the total population of the city to over 3,000.

Swindlers Use Mails To Obtain Money

Evidence that promoters of a "Spanish Swindle" are operating in this community was announced by N. J. Nelson, postmaster. The local office has received two letters addressed to local business men from points in Mexico that are attempting to get help in recovering lost money.

Quotations from one of the letters is as follows: "... I beg you to inform me if you are willing to help me save the amount of $185,000 in bank notes that I possess within a trunk in a Custom House in North America. ... As a compensation I would gladly give you one-third of said amount. ..."

The postal authorities, upon request of Postmaster Nelson, are giving the matter their attention. Anyone receiving letters of this type through the mails should contact their local postmaster at once.

NYA Camp Gives Trained Forest Fire Department

Those in of fighting forest fires in this summer will have avail. the services of what will rough. correspond to a city fire department adapted to forest fire purposes, announces E. G. Mason, assistant dean of forestry. This service is made possible through the organization and establishment at the Peavy arboretum, just north of Corvallis, of an NYA camp in which will be located all summer from 60 to 75 students in the school of forestry especially trained in fighting forest fires.

The men will be in charge of George H. Schroeder, assistant professor of forestry, who is considered the best qualified specialist in forest fire fighting in any forestry school in the United States.

Under the arrangements just completed NYA will pay the men $30 a month while they are in camp. From this the students will pay their own board. Camping facilities have been provided by the Oregon Forest Fire association, which is one of the sponsors of the project. The men will be on call at any time for fire fighting service in units of five men. Busses will be available to take them to fires throughout western Oregon and even in parts of eastern Oregon if desirable.

While on actual fire duty they will receive regular fire fighters' wages. When they return to camp they will be used in certain work of a forestry nature in the McDonald experimental forest.

Besides affording opportunity for summer employment the plan provides the men with additional training for professional careers, says Dean Mason, while at the same time providing a nucleus of trained fire fighters for emergency call.

Sponsors of the project, in addition to the school of forestry here, are the state department of forestry, the Oregon Forest Fire association, the Pacific northwest forest experiment station, the United States forest service, and the O & C Land administration.

Present plans specify that when the crew is out on a call, a supplementary group of youths will be assigned to the project, so that camp enrollment can be maintained at approximately fifty throughout the summer.

Aside from training and experience in fire control, youths assigned to the camp will become familiar with many land-use and forestry problems in Oregon. Enrollees are forestry students and other youths interested in the profession of forestry, all of whom must qualify as eligible for NYA assistance.
