Late Enrollment In 4-H Fall Creek Camp For Boys Possible

There is still an opportunity for not to exceed ten boys to enroll for the annual Fall Creek 4-H club camp, due to the change of plans of some of the members who had already enrolled to go. It is possible at this late date for a limited number of boys to enroll. You may either write to the 4-H Club office in the court house, Eugene, or may report directly to the 4-H club camp, Monday, July 8. Enrollment will be limited to 4-H club members.

The final date for enrollment for the girls camp shows that the enrollment is rapidly reaching the maximum number prepared for this year and any members who are planning on attending should get their registrations in immediately.

Fall Creek camp is located on the Big Fall Creek north and east of Lowell, three miles above the Unity school.
