PETROLEUM PUPPET SHOW ATTRACTS MANY VISITORS

Shattering all previous attendance records, the Petroleum Exhibit puppet show on Treasure Island continues to head the list of free attractions at the Fair in Forty. Nearly a half million people have already attended this year's puppet presentation and the puppet cast recently gave their 1000th consecutive performance before capacity crowds at the puppet theater at the petroleum exhibit in the Vacationland building.

The 1940 presentation, entitled "Buoy and Gull," offers an extremely fast moving nautical fantasy, replete with humorous situations and carrying an underlying serious note on the staggering taxation bill met annually by the petroleum industry.

With two casts of experienced puppeteers manning the puppet theater this year, frequency of performances has been increased. The attractive theater, only one of the numerous attractions in the huge petroleum exhibit occupying 36,000 square feet in the Vacationland building, is daily filled to capacity at each performance.

Beauty In A Lawbook

Rarely will one find a language as romantic as the following in the dry, unexciting reading of a law book. The territorial legislature of Alaska passed this act and the governor approved it April 28, 1917. If not the most romantic language used in a law then it is surely more interesting than most state documents.

"An Act

Designating and declaring the forget-me-not to be the territorial and floral emblem of Alaska.

Where, throughout her more than one-half million square miles of territory, stretching from the Pacific to the Arctic Ocean and from Canada's border to Bering Sea, Alaska has a wild flower which grows on every hill and in every valley; and,

Whereas, this flower is emblematic of the quality of constancy, the dominant trait of the intrepid pioneers, who, in spite of almost insurmountable obstacles and insufferable hardships, have opened for development a nation's treasure house; and,

Whereas, the Grand Igloo of the pioneers of Alaska have indorsed this floral gem as the Territorial flower of Alaska

Therefore, be it enacted by the Legislature of the Territory of Alaska: Section 1. That the wild native forget-me-not is hereby made, designated, and declared to be the Territorial flower and floral emblem of the Territory of Alaska. Approved April 28, 1917."
