OUR TRAVELING FLAG

(By Mrs. Julia Ashby)

At the district convention of W. R. C., held in Eugene last March we decided to purchase a traveling flag. The district comprises Eugene, Corvallis, Bandon, Newport and Cottage Grove corps. Our beautiful flag must be seen to be appreciated. It will be presented at gatherings where people will be asked to pledge allegiance to it and a record will be kept of the number saluting it and of the number of miles which it travels. We are to keep it here for a period of 3 months before it is sent to Bandon.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bytein, conductor; Mrs. Mattie Hydon, secretary; Ella Bray, Cor; Marie Franz, junior vice president; Jennie McCurdy and Adeline Newman, senior vice president, all of J. W. Geary Woman's Relief Corps of Eugene visited our Appomattox W. R. C. Saturday, October 26th in I.O.O.F. hall and brought the flag with them.

State Treasurer Is Important Office

"The state treasurer of Oregon handles each year more than $75,000,000 of public moneys in cash, and approximately $100,000,000 in total transactions," declares Leslie M. Scott, republican nominee for that important office.

Mr. Scott further points out that the state treasurer not only is invested with a high public trust as executive head of the finance department, but he also has responsible duties as a member of the State Board of Control. The board manages the institutions in charge of state wards; the state land board, which administers the state irreducible school fund and other trust funds aggregating more than $9,000,000; and the state bond commission, which makes bond investments approximating $4,000,000 per year for state funds. The state treasurer also is a member of the state printing board, banking board, and reclamation commissions, all of which are charged with important duties and functions.

Mr. Scott feels the people of Oregon wish positive assurance that the funds will be carefully guarded and invested; that their administrative boards will function efficiently, and that their institutions will be ably and humanely managed. His life-long personal and public record in Oregon is one of unquestioned integrity, seasoned judgment and he is well trained in finance and public business.

During his term as chairman of the State Highway Commission, 1932 to 1935, the state constructed $18,000,000 worth of roads and in the meantime reduced the highway bonded debt $4,862,500. He was also chairman of the state industrial welfare commission, 1928 to 1930, regulating hours and minimum pay of women and children.

Mr. Scott makes the same pledge given before the primaries, namely to give his best for workers, farmers and employers. His primary vote equaled that of the entire field against him.

PORTLAND TRIPLETS OF 1922 HEAVY

The Oregonian's Wirephoto page Tuesday carried a picture of Kansas City triplets whose weight totaled 17 pounds 3 ounces—but one long-time subscriber of The Oregonian was unimpressed. He telephoned Wednesday to say that triplets born in Portland in 1922 exceeded that weight, and the files showed he was right. On June 28, the records revealed, triplets weighing 18½ pounds, total, were born in Portland to Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Palmer, Cottage Grove. At the time a national record was claimed for the youngsters.—Oregonian, October 24th.
