Natives of a French Indo-China port watch with grave misgivings the ominous fluttering of flag of Rising Sun on Japanese cruiser which brought them a dictated truce in war with Thailand. Preliminary peace negotiations were held on this warship. A truce reached in Tokyo was ruptured and brought threats that would plunge Far East into war involving Britain and U. S. as well as Japan. Field, Truck Crop Outlook Variable As Price Changes

Variable market prospects are indicated for Oregon field crops and vegetables, according to the annual review of the outlook for these commodities just released by the agricultural extension service at O.S.C. The wheat supply situation is particularly out of balance with prospective domestic and foreign requirements, but strong consumer purchasing power owing to heavy war and defense spending has materially strengthened the market for truck crops.

In regard to forage crop and cover crop seeds, the report indicates a rather abundant supply except in respect to a few of the smaller items. This is despite reduced imports and increased domestic use of such seeds for soil improvement and other purposes. The price outlook for hairy vetch and Austrian winter field pea seed is associated directly with the government grant of aid program to assist southern farmers to increase the use of winter cover crops.

Although the prospective demand for such items as canned beans, peas, and tomatoes is highly favorable, growers are cautioned in the report against planting beyond an assured marketable quantity. The cost of producing such products will likely be higher than last year owing to higher wage rates and some other items. More care than usual as to seed quality is in order, owing to interference with normal seed importations from Europe.

Data contained in the outlook report show an increase in farm wage rates of 4 per cent compared with a year ago, and a moderate trend toward an advance in other farm costs during the past few months. Thus far the advance in the general level of prices received by farmers has been greater than the increase in costs, but a heavy ratio of disparity still exists and probably will continue. Purchasing power for farm products is now approximately four-fifths that of the 1910-1914 period.

Compared with a year ago, the general level of farm prices in Oregon is approximately 7 per cent higher, which is close to the general average for the United States. In the country as a whole the index of farm prices for grains at 84 was down 6 points at mid-January compared with a year previous, while the meat animal index at 128 had advanced 25 points, dairy products at 121 was up 2 points, chickens and eggs at 100 up 9 points, and fruit crops at 78 up 12 points. The truck crop index stood at 117, down 4 points.

CHECK-UP GROCERS ON FOOD STAMPS.

Every grocer accepting food stamps in Lane county may expect an instruction visit from a representative of the Food Stamp Division of the Surplus Marketing Administration, M. Louis Belangie, area supervisor, announced today.

"Many grocers and other food retailers have some problems in the handling of food stamps," said Mr. Belangie. "Through these personal calls we feel we can make the handling of stamps as simple as the use of cash."

Belangie pointed out that the plan has been in operation long enough in the county for retailers to get accustomed to the use of stamps and to develop merchandising ideas to sell more wholesome surplus foods to all customers.

Weather Favorable To Lumber Output

SEATTLE, WASHINGTON. — The weekly average of West Coast lumber production in February (4 weeks) was 167,196,000 board feet, or 105.0 per cent of estimated capacity. Orders averaged 165,056,000 b.f.; shipments, 158,602,000. Weekly averages for January were: production, 150,095,000 b.f. (76.2 per cent of the 1926-1929 average); orders, 147,930,000; shipments, 151,365,000.

Nine weeks of 1941, cumulative production, 1,419,261,000 b.f., same period, 1940—1,125,901,000; 1939—992,468,000.

Orders for 9 weeks of 1941 break down as follows: rail, 711,526,000 b.f.; domestic cargo, 174,812,000; export, 33,809,000; local, 179,729,000.

The industry's unfilled order file stood at 701,394,000 b.f. at the end of February; gross stocks, at $89,172,000.

A combination of large order files and an open winter has had the effect of expanding west coast logging and lumber manufacture to more than the estimated capacity of the industry. Small portable operations have multiplied, and some mills with one-shift rating have been operating two shifts. As a result, West Coast lumber production reached an exceptional peak in February.

The sustained heavy volume of West Coast orders is due to the continued expansion of defense construction, ranging from shipyards to industrial housing, from new Army camps in the States to defense building of many types in Alaska and other national outposts. Defense requirement: represent from 40 to 50 per cent of the current demands on West Coast mills.

The retail yard trade is experiencing its usual seasonal slump from the late-winter slow-up in home construction. In several sections residential and farm building has been practically stalled by severe weather. Shipments to the Atlantic Coast remain slack because of space shortage.

SNOW DISAPPEARING AT BOHEMIA.

There will be no more skiing in the Bohemia district, except in remote spots, unless more snow falls. Visitors at the Bohemias Sunday reported that spring-like weather prevailed and that the snow was melting rapidly. The snow on March 1st measured an average of 30 inches, according to records of the Rujada station.

LUMBER SHIPMENTS STEADY

Lumber shipments over the district were steady for the past week. Shipments totaled 115 cars of lumber over the Southern Pacific, seventeen cars of piling, thirty-five cars of peeler logs and one car of clay.
