Public Is Invited to View New Building

Another new and modern service station on the Pacific highway will be formally opened to the public Saturday, May 3rd, when Alvis Wicks holds a grand opening at his new station at 6th street and the new Pacific highway. The station, constructed near the Wicks residence, represents an investment of approximately $8,000 and contains all modern equipment and conveniences which are demanded by the motorists of today. Construction on the building was started the first of the year and the finishing touches added only recently when workmen completed the painting and decorations. The new station is finished in the colors of the Associated Oil Co., red, cream and green.

In addition to the services offered by the usual service station, Dale Owens, mechanic, will be associated with Mr. Wicks in the service department and will offer expert repair service on any make of car. Mr. Wicks will continue to sell and service the Studebaker car. Auto accessories featured will include Firestone, Fisk and Goodrich tires and tubes and Willard batteries. New and modern equipment for the lubrication of cars has been added and in addition to the Associated products the station will offer Veedol, Pennzoil, Hyvis and Quaker State oils.

In the grand opening Saturday, the visitors will be offered candy, pop and will have opportunity to participate in ten prizes. Mr. Wicks, who operated a service station on North 9th street for ten years before moving to his new location, extends a cordial invitation to all to look over the new station. Your visit does not obligate you to buy.
