

CHURCHES

Community Bible class meets in the Townsend hall every Sunday morning at 9:45. Leader, Mr. Laubach. Everyone welcome. Special invitation to the ladies.

Church of Christ, Gordon L. Hypes, minister.—For all who are interested in work in missionary lands, we have a very interesting and instructive day scheduled for this Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. David Byerlee of Belge Congo, Africa, have recently returned to the states on furlough, and we have been able to obtain them for this coming Sunday. They will have a great many items of interest with them, and are inviting the public at large to come and visit with them.

Bible school, 9:45 a. m. In the contest between our school and the Christian church school of Roseburg, we came out second on the opening Sunday. We confidently expect to change that this week end.

Church and Communion hour, 11:00 a. m. The morning message, "The Great Change—From Law to Grace."

Christian Endeavor, 7:40 p. m. Evening service, 8:00. The Byerlees will have complete charge of this entire service.

Lutheran Church (Missouri Synod), S.D.A. building, West Main St. W. A. Sylwester, Roseburg, pastor.—Services Sunday begins at 7:45 p. m. Sermon topic "Adversity Christ by Being a Loyal Citizen." This is the second of a series of sermons entitled, "Adversity Christ in Our Daily Lives." The public is cordially invited.

Presbyterian Church, E. F. McFarland, minister; William Wendell, choir director.—Bible school with classes for all meets promptly at 9:45.

Morning worship at eleven o'clock: Sermon subject, "Knowing and Doing the Will of God."

This is "Stewardship Sunday" and there will be a covered dish supper at 6:30, followed by a stewardship program for all group ages, and a stewardship play. The Ladies Missionary Society is in charge of the service.

Free Methodist Church, Corner S. 6th and Harrison Sts. Rev. Harold P. Hoffman, pastor.—Sunday school, 9:45 a. m. Mrs. Thelma Wright, Supt. Classes for all ages. Morning worship, 11 a. m. Sermon by the pastor, a message of encouragement and enlightenment. Evening service, 7:30 p. m. Evangelistic message by the pastor. Prayer meeting every Thursday evening. A cordial invitation is extended to all. The church with the warm handshake.

Miss Ethel Hubler, editor of the National Voice, an outstanding temperance publication, will speak on the subject of temperance on Thursday, May 29th at 7:30 p. m. This will be a great treat for the people of Cottage Grove and vicinity. Further announcement will be made later.

Christian Science Society, 242 Second Street.—Sunday school; 9:45; forenoon service, 11, subject "Mortals and Immortals." Evening service second Wednesday of each month at 8:00 p. m. The Bible, Christian Science literature and the writings of Mary Baker Eddy may be borrowed or purchased before or after the Wednesday service.

Assembly of God, Atwood Foster, pastor.—While the pastor is away, Evangelist and Mrs. Warren Cornelius will take charge of the regular services. Tuesday prayer meeting, Thursday, regular service; Sunday school at 9:45, morning worship at 11:00. Evangelistic service, 7:45.

Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Tarr attended the graduation exercises of the St. Joseph School of Nursing at Vancouver, Washington, Monday, May 12th. Their daughters, Rita and Joan, were members of the graduating class.

McFARLAND RETIRING FROM PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The Rev. E. F. McFarland is retiring from the pulpit of the Presbyterian church and will move the end of May with Mrs. McFarland to Ashland, where they expect to spend some time. The church at a recent congregational meeting moderated by Mr. McFarland called the Rev. Ted Burns of Reedsport to be their new pastor. Mr. Burns, a young minister, is a graduate of the large Presbyterian college at Marysville, Tennessee, and of the Louisville Presbyterian Seminary. Mr. and Mrs. Burns will move to Cottage Grove the first part of June and occupy the home that the McFarlands have occupied for the past two years.

FIRST GOOSEBERRIES.

The first gooseberries marketed here this season so far as known were brought in by Leo Wilson, who lives in Cottage Grove. The berries were marketed yesterday.

Local grown strawberries were also on the market yesterday. One consignment was brought in by a Lorane grower, whose name was not learned. Joe Schneider marketed home grown berries Tuesday.

Brice Creek CCC Train Lumber Men

When the Civilian Conservation Corps was first organized in 1933, thousands of young men were eager and anxious to enter camps because there was no employment and their families needed help. Today, this situation is changed. The CCC is a well established branch of the Government, devoting its time to the conservation of natural resources and the training of young men. Applicants for enrollment need not be from relief families. The list of vacancies is now greater than the list of applicants for enrollment.

At the time the Corps was started, its program was based upon three principal objectives: (1) to supply work and relief to those unemployed and in want; (2) to conserve and develop the natural resources of the nation; (3) to train for competence in self-support unemployed and untrained young men without other suitable opportunity for work or for training.

At the present time, these three objectives, in the order of urgency, must be stated in precisely the reverse order. That is to say, at the present time the most urgent objective to be discharged by the Corps is the training of untrained and unemployed young men.

In addition to the regular training opportunities afforded by individual camps at on-the-job and off-the-job work, national defense courses have been added in several lines, academic deficiencies can be removed, and CCC administration districts are maintaining special schools with such courses as radio, sheet metal, photography, telephone and electricity, drafting, mechanics, shoe repair, office work, truck and tractor operation and repair, driving, and welding. All of this is supplementary and preparatory to the program of national defense.

Camp Brice Creek maintains a logging and milling project for instruction purposes, to give training which starts with work in the woods and winds up with making the finished product, for men who expect to find employment in the lumber industry.

Mrs. D. J. Stevenson of Portland, sister of Mrs. E. R. Lemley, spent the week end visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lemley. Mrs. Lemley and Mrs. Stevenson visited over night at the J. P. Rasmussen home at Bar View, Monday.

NYA Supplies Part Time Work for Young People Not in School

The National Youth Administration supplies part-time work for unemployed young people who are no longer attending school and are between the ages of 17 and 25.

The kind of work or service varies in different communities, but it is real work that produces goods on a production basis for public agencies. Among the kinds of work done are: Repairing automobiles, making equipment from sheet metal, turning machine parts, repairing, building and assembling radios, making garments by power-driven machines or by hand, construction of small buildings, building footbridges, masonry walls, playgrounds. There is work, also, in typing, stenography, photography, silk - screen, and drafting. Most of the NYA workers live at home and work in their local communities. However, the National Youth Administration also operates resident centers at which youth from various communities live together and work at the project site.

The purpose of the NYA is to give work to young people in need of employment. Such work is designed to make them more employable.

It is not a school, it is a job. Wherever possible, however, related instruction is provided by the schools to help you with your work experience on NYA.

It does not turn out finished craftsmen, but it gives you a chance to know what different kinds of work are like, and whether you can do them well.

It gets you beyond the stage of being a "green hand." It makes you a worker, and not a beginner. While working on the NYA you are registered with the Oregon State Employment Service which will notify you when it has a job for you. NYA is not a career—it is a stepping stone! If you are interested in work with the NYA, you may apply to the local state employment office, Corona Portables. The Sentinel.

OLD TIMER DIES IN CALIFORNIA.

Word was received by Mrs. Chas. Conner of Delight Valley of the death of Mrs. Robert C. Barfield (nee Bessie Harding) which occurred at Hynes, California, May 7th. Mrs. Barfield was born here fifty-four years ago and lived here until the family moved to California in 1932. Her parents formerly owned the Sullivan ranch in Delight Valley and her grandfather at one time owned practically all of Delight Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Mason spent the Mother's day week end with relatives in Portland.
