

CITY COURT

Six fines were issued for drunkenness in the city court the past week. J. L. Lawson of Culp Creek was fined $100.00 on charge of drunken driving. Chas. R. Lawrence, Bud Chalafoue, Thomas A. Riley, L. D. Miller and Jess Everett were each fined $10.00 on charge of drunkenness.

Traffic citations were issued to Lloyd Peters, G. W. Chapman, Harry Patten, Lester Harris, G. E. Coop, H. M. Hughes, Genevieve Swarz and Claude Sherman.

CATTLEMEN URGED AGAINST EXPANSION.

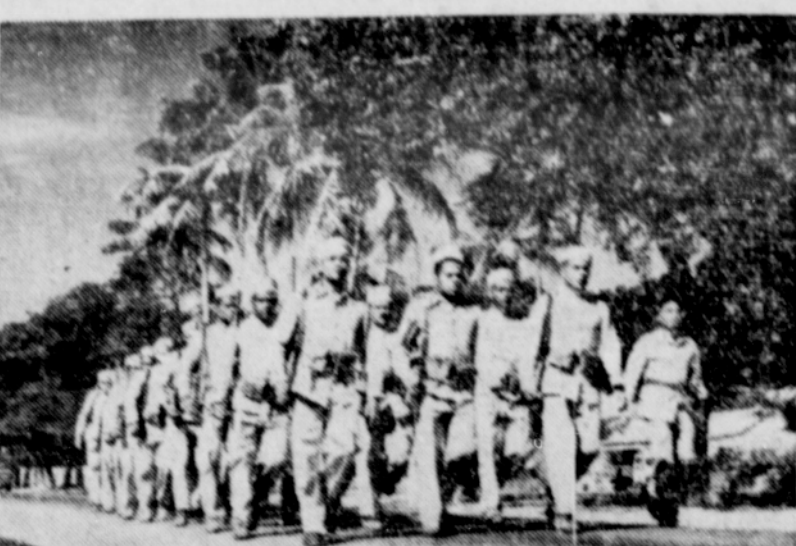

War profits are misleading and false and for that reason livestock men should be very careful about expansion now. That was the burden of several of the many fine addresses presented at the 28th annual convention of the Oregon Cattle and Horse Raisers' association at Ontario recently.

For instance, Dr. Orlo Maughan, Spokane economist, said that the peak of the price of cattle, on basis of purchasing power, was reached January 1, this year, or will be reached January 1, 1942. Studies have shown price peaks about every 15 years. A four-point program suggested to keep livestock producers on an even keel: 1. Do not expand; 2. Get out of debt; 3. Use credit only for production purposes; 4. Put part of the surplus into government bonds.

About the Better Homes Movement

To the Editor: In answer to your query about the Better Homes movement I should like to express my appreciation of the way Cottage Grove has taken hold of that phase of the work known as home and community improvement. It is only through the co-operation of the governmental, social, civic, religious and business organizations as well as the school that the committee may hope to serve more people. I still hope that there may someday be a Better Homes committee in Cottage Grove with whom we may cooperate to give every one an opportunity to help themselves in the way each one feels the need.

This is a question that affects every man, woman and child. Our committee has aimed to serve through the school, the health unit and in personal problems. We have aimed not only to help people to see their own needs but to show how spare time, materials on hand or purchased may gradually grow into something worthwhile and a credit to the community. We have seen gardens grow where there were none, children learn to do with ease wholesome and worthwhile tasks well and lastly home improvement of all types according to the individual need. In fact, work of this type brought us through the last depression and I hope will sustain through the next. Where thrift prevails there is little need for relief in this great country at present.

We have only started. What we hope to do in the future depends on the needs of the people. Much could be done with little effort to help the other fellow to a better way of living. I trust another year may see the Latham Home Information Center at the Cottage Grove library restored and functioning in a very vital way.

Sincerely yours,
MRS. HUGH TRUNNELL.
