THE LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE.

If you squint over the shoulder of the person next to you on the train or wherever you are, you will see, 9 times in 10, that it is the picture page they are perusing.

Away back yonder, years ago, a chewing tobacco outfit always advertised with just pictures—no reading matter. Folks who chewed couldn't read, they said. But I don't know if it is the same now, with people who look at the funnies versus reading editorials, etc.

But anyway I just run into a picture of a fellow, where it showed him scratching his head and looking at a calendar. He was pondering plenty. The artist had fixed up the calendar so you could see, if you work 5 days a week, you work all day Monday and part of Tuesday to pay taxes. You only keep the money you earn on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and part of Tuesday.

The picture was not on the funny page, but if you missed it,

Pedestrian Protection—“Gutter-Steppers” Endanger Selves

Impatient pedestrians who take a step or two off the curb to wait for a traffic signal to change, or an approaching car to pass, are tempting fate, according to the State Traffic Safety Division. Pictured above is the "danger zone" for pedestrians. Wait on the curb and stay out of this zone for safety.

Doorbell ringing—easy style

There's nothing mysterious about the way advertising works.

It's like the salesman who go from house to house looking for customers.

Advertising does the same job on a larger scale.

It's quicker—reaches more people—at a lower cost per call.

In other words, it's a time saver, which means it's a money saver as well.
