

Where USSR, Japan Meet

Japan and Russia glare menacingly at each other these days not only over long Siberian frontier, but also on an island—Sakhalin Island, where these views of Russian territory were taken. Southern half of this big island belongs to Japan, northern half to USSR. Japanese recently were reported massing troops at Sakhalin. Shown are an important Sakhalin mine, and one of the fishing villages.

NEW TYPE SHEER COTTON HOSE AT OREGON STORES

The new type cotton stockings in full fashioned sheer and light weights, as well as those for heavier service, are now available in larger shopping centers in Oregon, reports Miss Lucy Lane, specialist in clothing and textiles at Oregon State college. The many new styles now appearing were designed by the bureau of home economics of the U. S. department of agriculture, and were ready when the shortage of silk and nylon developed.

These new stockings are full fashioned, which means that they are knitted to shape to the ankle and curve of the leg so that they fit snugly. Numerous other construction features include foot reinforcements for soles, heels, and toes, and two-way stretch tops. The new hose are provided in many popular colors and styles, both for everyday wear with house dresses and slacks, or in designs so sheer that they are suitable with dressier clothes and light weight shoes.

Pedestrian Protection—Reduce Traffic Deaths

Let's make THIS YEAR

PEDESTRIAN PROTECTION YEAR

Observe their rights at crosswalks! If Oregon drivers will give pedestrians in crosswalks the right of way, accidents involving persons on foot can be decreased substantially, according to the state Traffic Safety division. State law requires drivers to slow down or stop if necessary to give pedestrians the right of way at crosswalks.

LION ROARS

As Echoed From Cottage Grove Union High School

(Vangie Condos, Editor.)

Pupils Try for Clock.

A method by which the school can earn a score board and timing system for basketball games was explained Monday between the second and third periods by Mr. Bowman of the Curtis Publishing company. Students are to sell subscriptions of Curtis Company magazines, earning for the school 50 percent of the money brought in on the four major magazines, namely, Saturday Evening Post, Ladies Home Journal, Country Gentleman and Jack and Jill, and 30 percent is to be kept on the 30 other named magazine subscriptions. When $425 worth of business is reached the large clock will be ours. Not only will the clock be given to the school, but there are many individual student prizes given to those who sell several subscriptions such as bicycle, portable radio, wrist watch, kodak, flashlights billfolds, pen and pencil sets, and many others listed in the booklets which were given to the students as they left the auditorium. The contest is open until Thursday, November 20, and all money and subscriptions must be turned in by that time, and the $425 must be earned by then. There will be five minutes given every afternoon for collecting money and subscriptions.

Mr. Preece explained some of the advantages of having this large clock for our gym.

Student Court.

A student court for the purpose of enforcing the hall rules and other general regulations of the school was established last week. This court was proposed by the lettermen and accepted by the student council. The lettermen will act as policemen and will give yellow tickets to all students violating the school regulations, especially as to the conduct in the halls. Each Friday a jury of nine students will meet, try the cases and press penalties on those found guilty. The penalties are to consist of hand labor around the school, such as mowing the lawn, or cleaning windows. The jury selected consists of Marie Lombard, freshman; Kenneth Hansen and Howard Harpole, sophomores; Howard Jenkins, Gordon Elfving, and Donna Chestnut, juniors; June Eastburn, Tommy Jones and Brian Stroup, seniors. A chairman is to be selected by the group when the jury meets.

Girls League.

Mary Decker was appointed to take charge of the plans for this year's program at the last meeting of the girls' league. She was also selected to supervise the selling of candy and hot dogs at the football game Monday evening. Janet Peterson and Marjory Earl are in charge of the Thanksgiving baskets this year. A discussion on having a Christmas play was held. The freshmen girls are to be in charge of the next girls' league meeting which will be held December 5.

Nelson Tells How to Shoot Craps.

The boys' federation met Friday and was entertained by Postmaster N. J. Nelson who gave a talk on how to shoot traps. Sides were chosen between the boys and there was a contest to see who could hit the most clay pigeons. The equipment and ammunition was furnished by the Rod and Gun club and Graber and Gettys.

Girls Assembly.

Friday's girls' league assembly turned out to be much more exciting than was at first expected. The main business of the meeting was the discussion of character, leadership, scholarship, and service, with several members and Eileen Harpole of the freshman division, after which all the freshmen repeated the creed. Shirley Culver, sophomore member, presented an acrobatic dance and Joan King, sophomore, sang "I Don't Want to Set the World on Fire." The rest of the program? Well—our Orlena Martin attended to that very well. After her planned piano number the girls just wouldn't let her quit, so amidst all their requests, coaxing and what not, she did everything from playing "high opera stuff" to "cackling."

F.F.A., Home Ec Party.

The annual F.F.A.-Home Ec harvest party was held November 7, in the high school gym. The gym was decorated with maple leaves and corn stalks, and baled hay was used for seats. Jim Stewart and Claudia Van Prooyen were awarded the prize for the best-dressed farmer and farmerette. Games were played throughout the evening, after which refreshments of cider and doughnuts were served. Judging from the laughter and yells heard throughout the evening, everyone had a good time.

Armistice Program

Sid George, state commander of the American Legion in Oregon, was principal speaker at the Armistice program Thursday, November 6. He talked on "How Public Schools Aid National Defense." The other speaker was First Lieut. Siegenthaler of Eugene, who discussed and explained how the filter center in Eugene and how the observation points all over the state operated during the recent blackout. He stated that the blackout proved to the army that the citizens were willing to cooperate during an emergency. The assembly was opened by the band playing "Star Spangled Banner," followed by students singing "America" and America the Beautiful." It was closed by the singing of "God Bless America."

The antics of the monkeys and the baboon seemed to make quite a hit with the audience last Thursday, November 6, when a National Assemblies program was presented in the auditorium. A deadly gila monster was exhibited with the snakes, after which several trained doves performed.

Bible Doesn't Say It

One very often hears someone declaring that the Bible says "Cleanliness is next to Godliness"; but the Bible says no such thing—in spite of the fact that many of the laws of Moses were designed to insure cleanliness and good hygiene. The saying is attributed to Rev. Charles Wesley, founder of the present Methodist Episcopal church. There was so much filth in his day that he created the phrase to make cleanliness a matter of conscience and religion. He thus made religion practical to millions of people since his time.

Lumber Facts

SEATTLE, Washington — The weekly average of West Coast lumber production in October (5 weeks) was 179,459,000 board feet, or 112.7 per cent of estimated capacity. Orders averaged 154,882,000 b.f.; shipments, 113,900,000. Weekly averages for September were: production, 172,255,000 b.f. (87.5 per cent of the 1926-1929 average); orders, 153,566,000; shipments, 171,871,000.

44 weeks of 1941, cumulative production, 7,391,569,000 b.f.; same period, 1940—6,014,990,000; 1939—5,427,072,000.

Orders for 44 weeks of 1941 break down as follows: rail, 4,266,574,000 b.f.; domestic cargo, 1,963,271,000; export, 187,431,000; local 1,015,453,000.

The industry's unfilled order file stood at 607,399,000 b.f. at the end of October; gross stocks, at 854,452,000.

The two features of the West Coast lumber situation at this period are the completion of the all-out production drive urged on the industry by defense agencies in midsummer, and uncertainty due to restrictions on building metals and to the shortage of ships.

In its response to urgent defense requirements for lumber, West Coast production since midsummer has exceeded estimated possibilities by about 15 per cent. Deliveries have been made on schedule, even in the most urgent cases, and the volume of unsipped orders that the mills had on their books during the summer months has been substantially reduced. The emergency summer job is done.

It is uncertain how the future of the industry will chart itself amid a maze of different factors:

(1) There will be additional requirements for national defense, with a probable new cantonment program in the winter and spring. (2) More lumber is being used in heavy construction, taking the place of steel.

(3) The industry is heavily handicapped in important markets by the shortage of ships.

(4) The most important factor is the decrease in private building that has already set in, following drastic SPAB controls over scarce metals. There is no certainty on how far the decrease may go. It has already definitely curtailed demand for lumber.
