

6th Company Boys Sail "Somewhere"

The following item taken from the Sentinel of February 26, 1918 is supplied through the courtesy of J. L. Beatty and parallels the happenings of the present war in many respects. Many of the boys who sailed on that date are living here today:

Feb. 26, 1918—The former members of Sixth company who passed through here Tuesday of last week sailed for parts unknown immediately upon reaching San Francisco. Word to relatives here was to the effect that they might not be heard from for several weeks.

Of the 78 boys who sailed, The Sentinel has obtained the following names: Lieutenant Ben C. King, Harry B. Conner, Clarence S. Milne, Samuel R. Veatch, William Southward, Donald M. DeLong, Hiram W. LORANE I.O.O.F. OFFICERS INSTALLED

New officers in both the Lorane Odd Fellow and Rebekah lodges were installed at the meetings of these orders last week. The president of the Rebekah assembly, Miss Madeline Rossner of Dayton, and assembly warden, Ethel Bailey of Roseburg, made their official visit at this time. Present also were Myrtle McAlphine, past president, and Robert St. Elmo, marshal of the grand lodge, and Chas. Minturn, special district deputy. New Rebekah officers are: Lucille Mitchell, noble grand; Rose Howard, vice grand; Ann Mitchell, secretary; Laura Mitchell, treasurer. I.O.O.F. officers: Chas. Mitchell, noble grand; James Howard, vice grand; Ivan Smith, secretary and Roy Foster, treasurer.

LANE PIONEER DIES

Funeral services were held in Grants Pass last Thursday for Mrs. Ethel M. Goff, 59, member of a Lane county pioneer family. Mrs. Goff was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Abbott and was born in Eugene April 27, 1883. Among the survivors is a sister, Mrs. Edith Sanders of Cottage Grove.

Battle School

Real bullets make the course authentic for officers of the British and Allied forces who go back to the Battle Schools in Britain. "Attack" is their watchword. As shown in this picture, snipers with Bren machine guns fire tracer ammunition within inches of the "students" in the assault boat. Charges of gun-cotton are also exploding in the lake around them to give the effect of bursting grenades and bombs as they paddle their way to invade the "hostile" shore.

A Week of the War

Commerce Secretary Jones reported the defense plant corporation will finance a two-point program to convert existing steel dry-cargo barges into tank barges to transport oil, and to improve existing inland waterways. The bureau of mines estimated the national gasoline demand for July, August and September will be about 17 percent less than in the corresponding period last year, eliminating the necessity for a large winter accumulation of stocks.

Consumer Supply and Maximum Prices

President Roosevelt issued a statement that every user of fuel and heating oil on the east coast "should face realistically the fact that there can be no guarantee that he will get enough oil even to meet his minimum needs."

The OPA established a wholesale ceiling price on milk and cream, sold in bottles or paper containers, at the distributor's highest March level. The action was taken to prevent a price "squeeze" on milk retailers by some milk distributors. The office set a ceiling price of four cents a pound for waste kitchen fats now being sold by housewives in the salvage program, and a ceiling price of five cents a pound for the sale of the same fats from meat dealers to renderers.

The temporary ceiling on lamb prices, effective August 10, places every major meat item except poultry under government price. Wholesale and retail lamb prices were set at the highest levels charged by each seller during the period July 27-31.

President Roosevelt told his press conference there are three reasons for the current meat shortage in the east and some mid-western states: (1) It is the off season for beef. (2) People have a good deal more money with which to buy more and better cuts of meat. (3) This country has around 4,000,000 men under arms for whom meat supplies must be prepared months in advance. Mr. Roosevelt said the people will have to expect new shortages from time to time because that is part of the price of winning the war.

Farm Income

During the first half of 1942 cash income from farm marketings totaled $5,773 million compared with $4,012 million in the same period last year, the Agriculture Department reported. Income from crops was up 36 percent and income from livestock and livestock products was 48 percent greater. Total cash income from farm marketings during 1942, including government payments, probably will exceed $14,500 million, the report said.

Rationing

The outlook for obtaining sugar supplies from the Caribbean has "taken a turn for the worse" because of submarine warfare and the amount of shipping diverted to war purposes, the OPA said. The office asked sugar refiners in Louisiana and Texas not to ship to sugar markets in Indiana, Illinois, and Ohio until at least September 1 because of a shortage in their home states. OPA said these restrictions will have to be continued if receipts from Cuba and Puerto Rico are below expectations.

Under rationing regulations persons owning more than one type writer may dispose of their machines only to authorized dealers or to the procurement division of the treasury, OPA said. The office ruled all new adult bicycles are subject to rationing "even though they may have been disassembled or altered or the parts changed."

War Bond Purchases

July sales of war bonds totaled $900,900,000 the second highest monthly amount on record and $150 million above June sales, the treasury announced. The highest monthly total was that of January when the amount was $1,060 million. Mr. Morgenthau said the August quota has been placed at $815 million. "Because of seasonal variations in income distribution, it would not be practicable to establish monthly quotas at a uniform figure of $1,000,000,000," he said.

Transportation

The ODT took over allocation of all new buses and froze all integral-type buses in the hands of manufacturers. Under the new plan, the ODT will grant permission to buy new buses only when the purchasers sign an agreement giving ODT authority to transfer the buses for use elsewhere if transportation difficulties develop.

Chairman Nelson said the WPB is studying the proposal of shipbuilder Henry Kaiser to build 5,000 large cargo planes in converted shipyards. The Maritime commission reported U. S. shipyards broke all records in July as 71 new merchant vessels were put into service, making a total of 299 cargo vessels and tankers produced during the first seven months of this year.

Trial of Nazi Saboteurs
The Supreme Court ruled that the charges preferred against the eight Nazi saboteurs allege an offense "which the President is authorized to order tried before a Military Commission," that the Commission is lawfully constituted, and that the saboteurs are held in "lawful custody." The saboteurs were brought again before the military commission.

The Armed Forces
The President signed a bill creating the women's auxiliary reserve in the navy, which will be made up of first of 1,000 commissioned officers and about 10,000 enlisted members. He also signed a bill to permit the CAA to train airplane mechanics in its civilian pilot training centers. The army has asked for training of 31,000 mechanics. Selective service headquarters instructed SS local boards to induct during August some men classified in 1-B with certain types of physical defects.

Keep Oregon Green

"Blackout and blackout at all times" is the word State Forester N. S. Rogers passes along to the general public. He is referring to army regulations which restrict all burning after night. Even during the day your debris burning must be guarded against, so that Oregon may be kept green.

Attention Oregon sportsmen and outdoor fans—Despite fire closures throughout forest areas, you can still fish and camp in most of your favorite mountain spots. See your local warden or forest ranger for permit regulations but remember all campfires must be put out before dark. Remember too, blackout all campfires before breaking camp. Keep Oregon Green.

Going fishing? Take along a Fag Bag. It's a brightly colored sack for that pack of cigarettes, serving as a reminder against habit or chain smoking while in the Oregon woods. Made by the Girl Scouts and distributed by the Keep Oregon Green association, the Fag Bag is available from your nearest forest warden. Yes, you guessed it, they're free.

London

Sunday morning services were splendid and a large attendance present. Glen Stimmel and family were visitors at church Sunday morning.

Felix F. Ems continues to show some improvement. Haying is about finished and harvesting well under way in the London neighborhood. A new motor for the rock crusher at the clay mine is being installed.

Brewsters mill reopened Monday morning after a week's shutdown. The new lunch room at London school is progressing nicely.

A treat awaits you if you have not tried our Rum Bisque Ice Cream. At Gustafson's, of course. 52-1te-6i

How to make your car last a lot longer

Five neighbors, with only 6,000 miles left on their tires, can, by taking turns driving, each ride 30,000 miles before any re-reading is necessary. Start or join a driving club today and save precious tires.

Don't bump into or scrape curbs. Check pressure weekly. Thirty per cent under-inflation reduces tire mileage 50 per cent. Drive "40 or less." Avoid "squeaking" on turns... many extra tire miles will result.

Visit a Pontiac dealer at least once a month for a wheel alignment check. A wheel one-half inch out of line will drag a tire sideways 87 feet in every mile. Have him switch tires every 4,000 miles, too.

Pontiac's FREE "Motor Doctor" inspection prevents little troubles from becoming costly repairs. Regular inspection by your Pontiac dealer is the cheapest way to preserve something you can't replace until the war is won.
