OLD SCHOOLMATES MEET AGAIN

To the tune of "Old School Days, Golden Rule Days, Ruled to the Tune of a Hickory Stick," members of the 1880 to 1900 classes of the Latham and Cottage Grove schools met for their annual reunion picnic at the city park on August 1st. At 12:30 a bountiful picnic dinner was served followed by music on the cornets of Albert Griffin and Ed Finnerty who led the assembly in singing the national anthem and other songs. The Rev. W. V. McGee invoked the blessing for the food.

A business session was held to elect officers with the following results: President, Mrs. Mabel Merryman; vice president, Mrs. Dacia Cathcart; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Hattie Hart; publicity chairman, Miss Belle Burkholder. Mrs. Anna Petrie, retiring president, presided, assisted by Ed Finnerty, secretary treasurer. Ninety-seven attended, some from far distant points. Many anecdotes were exchanged and pictures, some tintype, shown of old schoolmates and teachers and the old East Side schoolhouse. Many present attended their first school at Latham, and later a school house was built on the site of the A. W. Helliwell home in Cottage Grove. Miss Burkholder has a table made from lumber from this school house. It was made by her grandfather, John Charles Stouffer, builder of the school house. It is over 50 years old but in perfect repair.

Those present: Effie Lebow, Ethel Landess, Linnie Landess Violette, May Hart, W. F. Hart, Alice Garoutte, Ethel Miller, Belle Burkholder, Minnie Plaster, Elsie Currin, Lena Sears and Tom Sears of Salem, Cora Teeters, Dorena, and Chas. Teeters, Merl and C. H. Safety Firsts

WAR has brought home the necessity of an "ounce of prevention." Here's hoping the new housekeeping habits we form will stick with us afterward. The following will save time, money and trouble.

Mrs. Kiene

Pull out plugs on electric heating appliances when you finish using them — it saves electricity. Tighten up loose electrical connections — they may cause radio interference and sluggish operation of lamps and appliances. Do not attach lamps and a dangling cord — it leads to overloaded circuits and may cause a fuse to "blow." Besides, you may hit the cord and knock over the appliance.

Never use a substitute for a fuse. Fuses are safety devices, and makeshifts are no protection. Before replacing a fuse, find out what the trouble is. Whether it's an overloaded circuit, defective wiring or short circuit, rectify the fault first, then replace the fuse. Always use the correct size.

Makeshift wiring is an expensive attempted economy. If you need a longer cord, let an electrician lengthen it for you. It's dangerous to try splicing it yourself. Don't run an extension cord under a rug, but if you must, be sure the cord is flat, not round. Never nail cords to wall or floor—it's safer to install extra outlets.
