

Dr. Strand to Be Ninth President Of State College

OREGON STATE COLLEGE—Dr. August Leroy Strand, the newly elected president of O.S.C., who will become ninth head of the institution early in October, is a man of varied background, with both agricultural and scientific education and experience, and with proved administrative ability, according to officials of the state system of higher education and of this institution who took part in the search for a new executive.

Dr. Strand comes to Oregon State after five years as president of his alma mater, Montana State college. While a native of Texas, his common, high school, and collegiate education were in Montana, although his graduate studies for both master's and doctor of philosophy degrees were at the University of Minnesota, where he specialized in entomology and zoology.

On a recent visit to Oregon to be interviewed by the board and leaders of the college, Dr. Strand proved to be a large, affable man with a frank, straightforward manner. Both before and after his final election and acceptance those on the campus who had met and talked with him were unanimous in speaking highly of his personality and general attitude. He succeeds acting president F. A. Gillfillan, who has served since the resignation a year ago of F. L. Ballard because of ill health.

His professional experience includes service as assistant state entomologist in Montana, extension entomologist in Pennsylvania, and seven years on the staff of the University of Minnesota as instructor and assistant professor in the division of entomology and economic zoology. From there he returned to Montana as head of the department of entomology, from which position he was promoted to the presidency in 1937.

The new president is 48 years old, is married, and has three children. His oldest son, James, is attending the U. S. Naval academy at Annapolis; his daughter, Patricia, will be a senior in high school this year, and his son Roy will be in the fifth grade. He is a veteran of the first world war, having served first with the rank of chief quartermaster in the U. S. Naval Air service and later as a naval aviator with the rank of ensign.

In his present position Dr. Strand has maintained close relations with the various farm organizations of Montana, as well as with the state government. "I have also been popular with faculty and students. He will take office just prior to the seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding of the institution, which is to be celebrated in 1943.

PRUNE GROWERS CALLED TO MEET

A meeting of prune growers, drier operators and packers has been called for Tuesday, August 18, at 10 a. m. in the basement hearing room at the state house in Salem at which time efforts will be made to start the ball rolling to get the Oregon dried prune industry into better shape. The meeting has been called by Director J. D. Mickle of the state department of agriculture.

The call follows the recent appearance of Russell Smith, representative of the federal food and drug administration before the state land use planning committee. Smith outlined the position of the food and drug administration on the Oregon prune crop for the year 1942 and gave notice that the administration is familiar with the practices in vogue in the handling of dried prunes in this state and the unsanitary conditions that exist in many of the packing plants and driers.

White Elm Tree

The white elm tree is historically famous in the U. S. because George Washington stood under one at Cambridge, Mass., when he took command of the American army, and William Penn stood under another when he made his treaty with the Indians.

Low Feed Wheat Prices Set for New AAA Program

Wheat prices for disposal of surplus government-held grain for feed have been announced for Oregon at two levels in a new program just authorized under terms of recent congressional action, the state AAA office at Corvallis has just announced.

For August the two price levels are 90 cents per bushel for all counties east of the Cascades except Hood River and Klamath, and 94 cents for these two and all counties west of the Cascades.

These prices are on the basis of whole wheat delivered in each county, explained N. C. Donaldson, administrative officer. Purchasers desiring cracked or ground wheat will have to get it processed at their own expense.

Prices for September and October will be at an advance of one-half cent per bushel each month. Any undelivered or re-stored farm-stored wheat of the 1941 crop may also be purchased under the program for feed.

Availability of this wheat at prices approximating 85 per cent of the corn parity price presents an attractive opportunity for farmers to convert low priced feed into high priced meat, eggs, and dairy products, AAA officials point out. Secretary Wickard is urging the movement of at least 75 million bushels of surplus wheat into feeding channels before the movement of new crop corn gets under way about October 1. Every bushel moved now relieves the storage situation that much.

Feeding experiments and demonstrations by Oregon State college over a number of years have demonstrated that wheat can be used successfully in feeding or fattening all types of livestock. Information on best methods of feeding wheat may be had in bulletin form or from any county agent.

Deliveries of the government wheat are made only in carload lots, either through local dealers or to individual or groups of farmers direct. Orders may be placed with any county AAA committee.

Mrs. W. A. DeMoy returned Sunday after spending the week visiting her cousin, Mrs. D. E. Hannah, in Portland. Mrs. Sarah DeMoy returned with her.

5000 JAPS TO BE TRANSFERRED

The 5000 Japanese now in the Tulare Assembly Center, Tulare, California, will be transferred to the Gila River Relocation Center at Sacaton, Arizona, beginning on August 20, it was announced Tuesday by the Wartime Civil Control Administration.

Composed of Japanese from Ventura, Santa Barbara, San Luis Obispo and Los Angeles counties, the evacuees will be moved in groups of 600 or more each day until all have been transported.

This order makes the third transferring Japanese from Assembly Centers to the Gila River Relocation Center.

BICYCLE SALES FURTHER RESTRICTED

Sale of bicycles has been further restricted according to an announcement by J. Ed Turnbull, ONP director of Eugene Tuesday. The new order, effective August 15th, is designed to direct the limited supply of bicycles into essential transportation uses.

Word has been received here by Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Grannis that their son, Ensign Robert Grannis, recently underwent an appendectomy at Corpus Christi, Texas. He is improving satisfactorily.

R. C. Kuehner Is Called by Army

R. C. Kuehner, Lane county 4-H club leader for the past thirteen years, has been called to the army and left yesterday for Santa Clara, California. He will take up his duties August 17 as captain in the United States air corps. He has been a member of the field artillery reserve since 1922 and a captain since 1936.

Several months ago he accepted the position of executive secretary of "Keep Oregon Green" movement. Governor Sprague requested that his services with the army be delayed until the close of the fire season, but army officials declined to grant the extension.

E. A. Danielson, assistant 4-H club leader, will carry on the work temporarily.

Kuehner was recognized as one of the best 4-H club leaders in the United States.

Chester Rearrick of Corvallis was down yesterday for a visit with his mother, Mrs. Chas. Rearrick.
