

Fertilizer for Gardens Easy to Select This Year

Victory gardeners this year will not need to be puzzled over what kind of fertilizer to buy because that has been solved for them by a new ruling of the war production board which limits fertilizer to be sold for non-commercial gardeners to a single 3-8-7 formula, reports Arthur S. King, extension specialist in soils at Oregon State college. This formula means that the material contains 3 per cent nitrogen, 8 per cent phosphorus, and 7 per cent potash.

"This is a satisfactory garden fertilizer and is the only fertilizer that, under the new regulations, can be purchased in containers of less than 100 pounds," says King. "It will be sold in Oregon in 5, 10, 25, 50 and 100 pound packages and will be distinctly labeled 'victory garden fertilizer'."

Growers of commercial vegetables or other farm crops will also be restricted to a certain extent in their purchase and use of fertilizers containing chemical nitrogen, although they have a much wider choice than the non-commercial growers. Under order M-231, designed to insure an equitable distribution of the limited supplies of nitrogen fertilizer, the number of prepared formulas has been reduced to 14. These range all the way from 0-12-20, with no nitrogen, to 16-20-0, with extremely high nitrogen content but no potash.

In addition to the ready mixed fertilizers, the simple fertilizers such as nitrate of soda, phosphate of ammonia, super-phosphate, treble-phosphate, muriate of potash, and others can be purchased and used singly or mixed to suit the grower.

Present indications point to an extreme shortage of some of these materials, hence there may not be enough to go around, says King. He urges care to avoid any waste and says it will be unfair to others for anyone to purchase in excess of the current season's needs. Commercial growers can use their fertilizer on any crop except melons and cucumbers or small grain crops to be harvested as grain. Use of any fertilizer containing chemical nitrogen is prohibited on any lawn, golf course, park, cemetery, or similar planting. Purely organic materials such as cotton seed meal may be used.

ON THE NORTHWEST FRONTIER.—American soldiers in this Indian village on the Alean Highway to Alaska get a taste of Arny life of the old frontier days. The difference is that today radio communication and mechanized equipment speed things up over the trails of pony express riders and packhorse drivers of a century ago. Infantile Paralysis Campaign to Be Held as Usual

A danceless President Roosevelt's birthday celebration will be held in Oregon, but the campaign for funds to fight infantile paralysis will be held as usual, announces Dr. E. T. Hedlund, Portland's postmaster, who again has been named state chairman.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis' 10th annual appeal will be held from January 15 to 30, the latter which is the president's birthday.

The march of dimes again will be the method to raise funds in Oregon. Last year the state contributed more than $35,000, of which 50 per cent was retained by the state and county organizations.

"Instructions have been received from the national committee," Dr. Hedlund said, "suggesting that the birthday balls, such as held in previous years, be discontinued, and the energy of the county and city chairmen concentrated on fund raising."

The Portland postmaster has been identified with the infantile paralysis campaign movement since 1934. This is his fourth time as state chairman.

Assistants and county chairmen will be announced soon, he said.

Let's All Slice Our Own Bread

If slicing our own bread will help win the war, let's all do so cheerfully.

Doleman's Bakery is co-operating 100% with recent government orders dealing with the manufacture, packaging, and sale of bakery products.

Probably the order forbidding bakers to slice bread after January 17 will affect the consumer most, however be assured that Doleman's Bread will still be enriched with vitamins and iron, and will contain the recommended amounts of essential ingredients allowed by the above orders.

Remember Doleman's Bread is made under sanitary conditions in a modern shop located in Cottage Grove by Cottage Grove management and employees.

P. S. For a short time you may find NOT-sliced bread in a wrapper that says sliced. This will be necessary until appropriate wrappers can be secured.
