Tooth and Dime All Out to Help

"Now it's my turn," says five-year-old Gerry King of New York City as he fills a dime card for early mailing to greet President Roosevelt on his 61st birthday, Saturday, January 30. Last year Gerry had the honor of visiting the President at the White House during the 1942 infantile paralysis campaign. Even though he was on crutches he had a great time—even took a playful "sock" at Dorothy Lamour. This year, he's able to run and play around the house and enjoy an active life with other children thanks to the dollars and dimes contributed during the annual infantile paralysis fund-raising appeals. But he hasn't forgotten, so he's "all-out" to help the 1943 campaign which starts January 15 and climaxes with the President's birthday.
