Colman, Garson Excell in Hilton's 'Random Harvest'

Ronald Colman and Greer Garson, teamed for the first time, provide haunting romance and a dramatic story in "Random Harvest." Metro - Goldwyn - Mayer screen presentation of James Hilton's best-selling novel, coming to the Arcade Theatre June 20 for a four-day engagement.

Closely following the book, except that the story is told in chronological order instead of in "flashbacks," it deals with a wealthy Englishman who loses all memory of his past during the first World War. Befriended by a young actress, he starts life anew and wins note as a writer. They marry. Then, in an accident, his memory of the past comes back, but memory of the space after the war vanishes. He assumes his old identity and becomes a powerful figure in industry. The wife, realizing that she now is a stranger to him, becomes his secretary, never mentioning their marriage.

and essays the task of winning back his memory and love. How this is accomplished provides a haunting romantic climax.

R. W. Woolley of Hermiston visited recently at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Woolley.
