Sugar for Home Canning Explained

Sugar for home canning will be made available to consumers at the same rate as last year, and in much the same way, Willard Case, district OPA rationing representative, explained Saturday.

As announced earlier, five pounds of sugar for home canning may be bought with sugar stamp 40 in war ration book 4. The remainder—a maximum of 20 lbs. of sugar per person—will be granted on application to local OPA boards any time after March 23, Case explained.

Procedure is simple for getting extra sugar for home canning (in addition to the 5 pounds that can be bought with sugar stamp 40).

Application is made to local OPA boards on form R-323, and the whole transaction may be handled by mail. Single application may be filed for all persons living at the same address, listing names of persons for whom sugar is requested, including the name of person making application, and the number of pounds of sugar (in units of 5 pounds) the family needs for canning and for making fruit spreads.

In order to make it unnecessary to send ration books through the mails spare stamp 37 from book 4, is used for identification purposes. This stamp must be attached to the application form for each person applying for sugar.

EXAMPLE: A family of four may need 40 additional pounds of sugar to put up a year's supply of canned fruits and spreads. One member of the family will fill out a single copy of Form-323, which the local OPA board will mail upon request. He must give the name of each person for whom the application is made, as well as his own. He must also attach spare stamp 37 from each of the four ration books of members of the family.

If the ration board approves application in full, it will mail coupons or certificates for 40 pounds of sugar, and keep the application on file at the ration board. If more sugar is needed later, second application must be made to the same board.

No restrictions are put on the amount of sugar that may be used for each quart of finished fruit, as most consumers realize the importance of using the minimum necessary for their canning and preserving, Case said.

The moon was yellow
The time was right,
As he turned to me
Last Saturday night.
And every gesture
And every glance
Gave me a hint
That he craved romance.
I stammered, stuttered,
And time went by—
The moon was yellow,
AND SO WAS I.

So you're short of gas.
So you can't go to the beaches.
So you can't go to the mountains.
So you can't go necking.
How's about Chris Columbus?
He crossed the ocean on three galleons,

Use Scouring Powder
For galvanized buckets, tubs, and garbage pails, you can safely use coarse scouring powder. Don't try to keep tin shiny because if you keep shining it, likely you will take off the thin coating of tin. That exposes the basic metal which may rust. Dry tin pans carefully for this reason. If you want to take off some particularly hard-to-remove burnt food, try boiling a little soda and water in the tin pan. But never boil it longer than five minutes at the most.

Protect Beehives
To keep extremely cold winds from penetrating the insulation around beehives, they should be protected by a snow fence or other windbreak on the side from which the prevailing winds blow.

First Roads
Albania's first roads were built during World War I to facilitate Allied troop movements in the Balkans. This highway network was improved and expanded in the 20-year period of peace and independence before 1939. A report last year stated that 83 kilometers of an Italian-inspired railroad line had been completed. This railway was planned to start at Durazzo, principal port, wind inland to Tirana, the capital, then southeastward to mineral deposits in the interior.

The first ground-wood pulp in the United States was made at Curtissville, Mass., in 1867.

War Requirements OF Lumber Heavy

SEATTLE, WASHINGTON—The weekly average of West Coast lumber production in February (4 weeks) was 163,921,000 board feet, or 103.7 per cent of 1940-1943 average. Orders averaged 178,202,000. Shipments, 158,043,000. Weekly averages for the month of January were: Production 157,843,000 b.f. (99.9% of the 1940-1943 average); orders, 165,858,000; shipments 153,280,000.

Eight weeks for 1944, cumulative production, 1,267,056,000 b.f.; 8 weeks, 1943, 924,679,000; 8 weeks, 1942, 1,295,371,000.

Orders for 8 weeks of 1944 break down as follows: rail, 1,073,064,000 b.f.; domestic cargo, 140,984,000; export, 30,590,000; local 131,600,000.

The industry's unfilled order file stood at 1,072,586,000 b.f. at the end of February; gross stocks at 491,153,000.

Fortune smiled again on the war production efforts of the West Coast lumber industry in February, with a continuing mild winter keeping the woods open and the mills supplied with logs. At the end of the month the industry was 39 per cent ahead of its production on the same date last year, or by 360,000,000 board feet.

War requirements continue two or three jumps ahead of the sawmills, however; especially those for shipping lumber—box, crating, and the like. Estimated needs for the year in lumber required for packaging and shipping war items run to the giant figure of 17,000,000,000 (seventeen billion) board feet—exactly half of the national lumber industry's total estimated production for the year.

The general critical status of lumber has led the War Production Board to consider a rather drastic form of rationing under which use of lumber will be restricted to a point that will keep well within available supply. This shapes up as the next big change in the lumber picture. Along with direct war needs, those of farms, war housing and railroads are paramount in that picture. Aim of the rationing program will be sure supply of lumber for essential civilian uses and war requirements together.

SOILED SPOTS

Collars, cuffs and neckbands of shirts, rompers, overalls and children's dresses usually need special attention, and for such soiled spots; Dissolve 1 cup granulated soap flakes in sufficient boiling water to make a thick jelly. With a soft bristled brush apply soap jelly to heavily soiled spots. Then put the garment into the wash with the other clothes.

"MEAT STRETCHER"

In using soybeans as a "stretcher" in meat loaves, patties or croquettes, mash the cooked soybeans by running them through a meat grinder or mashing them with an old-fashioned potato masher. Putting them through a sieve is tedious and not recommended.

As a means of getting the most meat for the ration points, solid cuts with little bone give greater value than cuts with a great deal of bone, even though solid cuts have a higher point value.

At the first sign of rust on refrigerator shelves, wash shelves with a mild scouring powder and hot water; dry well with a soft, clean cloth and, using another clean cloth apply a thin protective coating of hot melted paraffin.

A dark-colored lining in a lamp shade branded it as a "light robber." Miss Myrtle Fahsnyder, director of Home Lighting for Westinghouse, explains that a dark lining soaks up light just as a sponge soaks up water whereas white or ivory reflects the light instead of absorbing it and thus give about 50 percent more light.

SCALLOPED LIMA BEANS

2 cups dry lima beans
1 1/2 quarts water
1/2 cup diced pork
2 tsp flour
1 pint milk
Salt to taste

Wash the beans well, and soak them overnight in water. Cook them until tender. Fry the diced salt pork slowly until crisp, remove the meat from the fat and add to the beans. Make a white sauce of the salt pork drippings, flour and milk. In a buttered casserole or baking dish, put a layer of cooked beans, some of the salt pork, cover with white sauce, and continue until all the ingredients are used. Salt to taste. Cover the top with buttered bread crumbs, and bake about twenty minutes in a moderate oven.
