MUCH TALK NO ACTION

A lot of talk and several volumes have been written in the past year regarding the juvenile delinquent. Here we have discussed the problem arising out of children left to their own initiative in the matter of conduct, but nothing has been done toward solving the problems arising out of permitting the juvenile to be his own guide in the matter of conduct.

In other sections, particularly in the southwest, progress has been made. Juvenile delinquency has been pinned on the delinquent parent and steps taken to see that the parent assumes at least a measure of responsibility. Some readers will recall an article in the Saturday Evening Post a few weeks ago where a young judge at Phoenix, Arizona set out to solve the problem and did by hailing the parents into court, all hours of the day and night. The parents disliked the procedure enough that they assumed some responsibility over the children of the home and delinquency practically disappeared.

A responsible citizen told us Friday that some twenty juveniles were counted loitering on the streets after twelve o'clock without official interference. Officers won't do anything unless backed up by the council and the council probably is awaiting backing from the public. It's going to take some intestinal fortitude to correct this situation. So far this fortitude is missing.

CONFUSION IN AGRICULTURE

A most amazing situation exists in the nation's field of agriculture, according to "The Farm Column," of Fortune for May. It shows we had $2,200,000 head of cattle as of January 1, as against a ten-year average of 69,400,000; and 83,800,000 hogs, as against a ten-year average of 51,600,000, and that the chief cash return to farmers is from livestock and livestock products, not crops.

It is estimated that the needs of dairy cattle, beef cattle, sheep and lambs, horses and mules, swine, turkeys, chickens and ducks, will be 145,794,000 tons of concentrate feeds for the feeding year, and that we are 12 per cent short of that amount.

"In essence, the problem resolves itself down to the price of feedstuffs. 'Ceiling prices on feeds,' says Professor Cunningham, 'prevent prices from rising to sound the danger warning and check livestock production before feed supplies are exhausted. In a free market price situation, rising feed prices would taper off demand.'

"Under the circumstances it appears that a bad situation may become worse and could be extreme in event of the quick end of the war."

In the meantime, price ceilings, floors, subsidies, rationing and crop controls, confuse the farmer who is in a large measure helpless to meet his problems.

WAR VETERANS AND THE LAND BOOM

Land prices are now climbing faster than they did at the height of the 1919-20 boom. A real runaway is possible, according to Farm Journal.

The War Food Administration and Extension Service are setting up local committees, headed by County Agents, to advise veterans on what kind of farms to buy, etc. But if prices get way out of reach before the boys come home how can they buy?

It is pointed out, however, that: Sale of state and county-owned lands has been suspended by law in North Dakota until July 1, 1945, in order that returning service men may have a chance to buy. The law will probably be amended or replaced by the next legislature, early next year, with a more comprehensive land-for-veterans program.

A '64 QUESTION

Would These Shoes Have Worn Twice as Long if They Had Cost Twice as Much?

Certainly not! We've heard of many a pair of moderately-priced Penney shoes that served for years, even under the most trying conditions. Would they have worn twice as long, if they'd cost twice as much? Not likely!

All Penney shoes are built to give stalwart service—a full measure of value, and often much more!

How do we know?

Because people tell us — thousands of them every year. And because we know how our shoes are made, and what they're made of! We know, and our customers know, that there's just no sense in paying more than Penney prices for shoes!
