MISS PEARL MONROE BRIDE AT QUIET HOME WEDDING

At a quiet ceremony at the home of her parents, Miss Pearl L. Monroe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Monroe, became the bride of Frank Kausche, son of Mrs. J. F. Kausche of Kellogg, on the thirty-ninth wedding anniversary of the bride's parents Tuesday.

The ceremony was read by Rev. Frank E. Brown. Mrs. Wayne Monroe, sister-in-law of the bride, played "Because" preceding Mendelssohn's "Wedding March". The bride was lovely in a floor-length dress of peach crepe with fitted bodice and sweetheart neckline trimmed with white net ruching. She wore a cameo necklace and a corsage of gardenias.

The marriage was solemnized before an altar banked with brake fern and cedar with hanging baskets of Madonna lilies and carnations with lighted tapers on either side.

Following the ceremony a small reception was held. Those present for the wedding and reception were: the parents of the bride; Miss Ina Monroe of Salem, sister of the bride; Mrs. Wayne Monroe and daughter Jean; Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Grimes of Coburg and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Rader of Kellogg.

For going away, Mrs. Kausche wore a beige print afternoon dress and an aqua blue hat. After a short wedding trip the couple will be at home at Kellogg.

CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hart, former residents of Cottage Grove, celebrated their 50th golden wedding anniversary at Portland with a reception at the L. O. O. F. temple. They were greeted by over 200 relatives and friends.

Rebecca May Garoutte was married to William F. Hart at Lebanon, Oregon, June 27, 1894. The renewal of the wedding vows was conducted by the Rev. Chester P. Gates. The traditional wedding march was used.

Best man for the couple was their grandson, Raymond Hart. G. L. Corey, their son-in-law was usher. Matron of honor was their daughter, Opal Corey, and bridesmaids were her daughters, Betty, Dawn and Barbara. Little Hal Sexton, great grandson of the couple, was ring bearer and their son, Otho C. Hart, gave the bride away.

The bride wore a gold satin dress with orchid veil and carried a white Bible with an orchid on top. A program followed the wedding ceremony including solos by their granddaughter, Barbara Corey, and trumpet solos by their grandson, Raymond Hart.

Dainty refreshments, including a huge wedding cake, were served in the dining room. Many beautiful gifts were received by Mr. and Mrs. Hart.
