Beulah Bondi Still Acts Favorite Role

Beulah Bondi has been playing old ladies ever since she was a gay young thing just out of college. Now, she does it again in Paramount's Mark Sandrich production of "I Love a Soldier," arriving November 26th at the Arcade Theatre.

Portraying such roles is Beulah's specialty and she'd rather be a character actress than anything else in the world. She's had more gray and white wigs over her ungrayed black hair than any actress in movies. There's been enough wrinkle lines drawn on the smooth skin of her face to wear out a dozen pencils.

Miss Bondi's motto would appear to be "the older they are, the better I like them." It is highly interesting to watch the years fall around her shoulders. The cast of "I Love a Soldier" has seen it happen frequently. The active, youngish woman will walk onto the set, find out how soon she will be at work and then retire to her dressing room for hairdress and make-up, emerging an elderly person in bearing as well as appearance.

Paulette Goddard and Sonny Tufts are the co-starring team of "I Love a Soldier" and the picture marks the return of these two lovers of "So Proudly We Hail" produced under the supervision of Sandrich also.

BIDS ADVERTISED ON DRAIN LINE

Bids are being advertised for the construction of 44 miles of electric line from the Bonneville sub station at Eugene to Drain and passing through here. The line which will require about three months to construct will carry 33,000 volts. Bids will be received until November 28th. The Douglas cooperative will lease the line on a long term basis when completed. It was also announced unofficially that the Lane electric cooperative has purchased a mobile unit, costing $10,000 which will provide power for some twenty one farms in the Row river district east of here until the new lines are completed.

4-H MOTHERS HAVE BUSY DAY

Business discussions occupied most of the time at the London 4-H Mothers' club meeting last week. Arrangements were made to conduct bond sales drives at the London store from 1:30 to 7:30 p. m. each day from November 20 to 25 and on Monday, Thursday and Saturday of the following week. The group planned for a meeting at the club house next Monday afternoon to clean the rooms and lay new linoleum as a brick flue was recently installed.

Mrs. Jean Morton reported that she had organized clubs in home-making and cooking 1 and cooking 2. Mrs. Doran Ritter has organized a club in camp cooking.

A report was given on the recent "Cake Walk" which netted a profit for the club. Mrs. Joseph Miller, sister of Mrs. Arlie Sugg, who moved here recently from Oklahoma, was welcomed as a new member.

During the day members worked on articles for the Christmas bazaar which the club will hold in the near future. The date and place will be announced later.

The next meeting will be November 29 and members are urged to come early as possible as important business will be transacted. A covered dish luncheon was served at noon and housekeepers for the day were Mrs. Henry Hess and Mrs. Elvis Kelley.

BITS OF BUSINESS

Increased ceilings for domestic brands of cigars, to become effective shortly, will result in pre-war nickel cigars coming back on the market at 7 1/2 cents. Retail sales for 1944 will total $67 billion according to present estimates.

compared with $61.7 billion last year. Despite increased production, net income of 26 iron and steel companies in the first nine months of 1944 was 9 per cent lower than in the like period of 1943.

U. S. CASUALTIES EXCEED 200,000, WESTERN EUROPE

WASHINGTON — American ground force casualties in western Europe now exceed 200,000.

The war department said last Thursday the 200,000 total includes 35,884 killed, 145,788 wounded and 18,677 missing to Nov. 1. It does not cover the air force but embraces the Seventh army which landed in southern France as well as the armies in the north.

The public can expect no relief from existing paper shortages until about the middle of 1945 because of the heavy wartime requirements of newsprint, magazine and book paper and the manpower shortages in this industry the War Production Board reports.

Next time you hear a Southern Pacific train whistle in the night, think of it as something more than a lonely, haunting sound. It is a reassuring sound—a promise that even while you sleep, the war trains are rolling. It's the confident voice of an industry that's doing the biggest job in its history, and will be in there pitching long after the war is over.

Wouldn't you like to know the language of the train whistles? Below we show you:

What S. P. train whistles mean

We haven't room to explain all the whistles, but here are the commonest ones. The "o" stands for a short sound, the dash means a longer sound.

■ ■ ■ ■ ■ Warning whistle when train is approaching a highway crossing.

● ● ● ● When train is running, this means it will stop at next station, which is not a regular stop. If train is standing still, this signal warns that it is about to back up.

■ ■ ■ ■ ■ One long whistle is sounded a mile before train reaches stations, railroad crossings, drawbridges, etc.

■ ■ ■ ■ ■ Signal for brakeman to protect rear of train. He must go down the track with necessary flagman's signals.

● ● ● ■ ■ Signal for brakeman to protect front of train.

■ ■ ■ ■ ■ This signal orders brakeman to return from the west.

■ ■ ■ ■ ■ This signal recalls brakeman from the east.

■ ■ ■ ■ ■ This tells other trains that a second section is following.

● ● This is the engineer's answer to most signals from other trains.

● ● ● ● ● A succession of short sounds is a warning to persons or livestock on the track.
