Creswell

Vernon Kerr, fireman 1/C, has been given a 30-day furlough from duty in the southern Pacific war zone, is enjoying a visit here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Kerr and old friends as well.

Members of the Theta Rho club attended the district convention at Cottage Grove Saturday. Mrs. Arthur Mogstad and Mrs. J. R. Miller accompanied them.

The elementary school grades gave their spring program in the school gym. It was a most interesting entertainment and those who attended report a most pleasant evening.

Pfc. LeRoy Achey is guest at the E. O. Smith home. He has served in the south Pacific war zone for over three years.

Creswell Eastern Star chapter initiated several candidates at their Thursday evening meeting. A number of outside guests were in attendance.

The librarian, Mrs. H. Stott, report for the past month was 125 books loaned to children and 78 books to adults.

Creswell Civic club celebrated its 32nd anniversary last Tuesday. A number of guests were in attendance and there were 28 members. A dainty lunch was served and an interesting program was given.

Elmer Bier has returned from a visit in Nebraska where he has relatives and is a guest at the Glenn home in Creswell.

Mrs. Delman Ransdell, who has been with her husband, Pvt. Ransdell at Camp Roberts, has returned home.

James Coleman, armament department chief in the veteran 15th A. F., P-38 Lightning fighter squadron, has been promoted to master sergeant. Mr. Coleman is a Creswell man and a high school graduate.

Mrs. Camp, pastor of the Creswell Methodist church, attended the funeral of Dr. Purdy at Salem last week Tuesday.

Mrs. E. A. Green left suddenly for Wallace Idaho, called there by the sudden death of a sister, Mrs. Minna Foster.

Creswell grange attended in a body the Sunday service at the Methodist church. Mrs. Camp, pastor, delivered the sermon. A potluck lunch at noon followed at the grange hall where they held open house all day. At three o'clock they attended the Honor Roll exercises and dedication at the city park.

The Boy Scouts opened the program with a flag raising and salute and song, followed by program by Mrs. Camp. Mayor Green gave a short address followed by Major Huntly and Major Bob Sly recently returned from a Japanese prison. Mrs. Frank Sly gave a reading. Mrs. C. I. Kent gave a short talk and the exercises closed with a hymn and taps by the Scouts. There are around 200 service men on the list at present.

Mr. and Mrs. Loran of Veneta attended the dedication. Mr. Partan is a first world war veteran.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Joslin visited Sunday evening at the Stratton home near Cottage Grove.

Dainty cards are out announcing arrival of a son, Stephen Earl Petty. The father arrived Friday from Camp Roberts in California, and he is spending the most of his furlough with his wife and son at the hospital.

Dorena Grange gave a repeat entertainment at Creswell Grange Saturday night. There was a capacity crowd and from the howls of laughter coming from there, there is no need to guess, even at the success of their entertainment. Everybody voted it as the "best ever," and truly it was!

Handing of the juvenile cases soon will be transferred from the county court to the district court, she said and laid emphasis on the need of a detention room and told how inadequate facilities had handicapped the handling of juveniles.

Mrs. Schick accompanied Mrs. Nichols here. An additional guest was Mrs. Fagan, mother of Mrs. Robert Graham.

Each year at this time, we make preparations for our annual task, which has been completed by the writer for the past eight years since the death of Mrs. Clara Burkholder. In 1922, she and Mr. C. A. Bartell organized the association to do this work. We plan to undertake it again for the ninth time this year. At first, we almost despaired due to the scarcity and high cost of labor in these war times. We have now completed our plans to begin May 15. Your cooperation is more necessary than ever this year. We are asking the lot owners to pay a $2.00 assessment so that we may be able to hire the necessary labor. For without funds, we cannot pay our help. This is obvious, therefore if you wish to see the cemetery as a whole in good shape, you will have to help us. We will go over the entire cemetery as far as our funds reach, but without funds, we cannot do the general work. Let's get busy and make our cemetery the beauty spot of south Lane county. Let's show the world we still revere the memory of our dear departed ones. As the swift seasons come and go, each with its annual tasks, we welcome this opportunity to demonstrate our loyalty to our dead, whose spirits, and souls live eternally, in a better land, we know; and whose influence still lingers, and whose love and kindness still remain with us in fond memories of the time when they too lived upon this earth. This is a task laid upon us, let us not shirk its doing.

Fuller, which occurred at Portland Monday after Mr. Fuller suffered a heart attack. Mr. Fuller, aged 57, was employed as a foreman of a shipyard in Portland. Funeral services are being held in Portland today.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eastburn went to Salem Saturday and attended the funeral of Mrs. Eastburn's uncle, G. E. Butcher, who passed away at a Salem hospital.

The picnic at Blue Mt. that was to be May 4th has been postponed to May 11th on account of the senior play in Cottage Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Abene and two children of London and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Patton and family of Blue Mt. were callers Sunday at the Perkins Miller home.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester and two children of Springfield were callers Sunday afternoon at the Fred Overton home. Mrs. Sylvester was a scholar of Mrs. Overton several years ago.

Mrs. Naomi Nichols Is Guest Speaker Before Young Adult Group

Mrs. Naomi Nichols of Eugene, county juvenile officer, was guest speaker at the meeting of the young adult group of the Methodist church here on the evening of April 25th. A potluck supper preceded the program with Mrs. Hadley Arthur in charge.

Mrs. Nichols led an interesting discussion on the delinquent of today, citing some instances of juvenile delinquency which has happened here and challenged those who believed that such things could not happen here to make an effort to find out about them. The speaker emphasized the importance of correct home training and charged that in most instances parents are directly responsible for delinquency among their children and have put too much responsibility on the school and church.

Handling of the juvenile cases soon will be transferred from the county court to the district court, she said and laid emphasis on the need of a detention room and told how inadequate facilities had handicapped the handling of juveniles.

Mrs. Schick accompanied Mrs. Nichols here. An additional guest was Mrs. Fagan, mother of Mrs. Robert Graham.
