And we are still wondering if the war is really over. After all these long, weary years of horror and heartache, no wonder people are almost dazed and scarce can believe the good news, coming so suddenly.

Living on highway 99 we note a decided change in the tempo of driving—in more gas, more speed.

The Masons and Eastern Star members held a special victory service Friday evening and also in honor of 18 members, Masons and Stars, who are serving in the various war departments. Speakers from Eugene came and a fine musical program followed.

Sunday services at the Christian church were conducted by Chas. Nixon, N. W. Christian college student of Eugene.

C. Jackson has completed his cement floor for his new garage and has started the frame work. His garage was destroyed by fire a year ago.

Miss Bobbie Traxler of Portland spent several days at home last week, the H. N. Traxlers of Creswell.

The Good families held a reunion of the Good clan, at Junction City, Sunday last. Mr. and Mrs. F. Good and their daughters of Creswell attended.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Allen of Creswell reports the arrival of their first grandchild, Sharol Susan, at Sacred Heart hospital, Eugene. The parents are Cpl. and Mrs. Neil Henderer.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Stratton attended the funeral of Mrs. Parry Sunday at Creswell, and spent the remainder of the day at the Joslin home.

Moss circle announces their annual picnic to take place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Stone, August 24, Friday evening, at 7:00 o'clock.

Bean picking goes on, as best it can, with help shortage so acute. Daily we note several loads of grinning, shouting, waving youngsters go by enroute to and from their work.

Friends and relatives grieve the passing of Mrs. Ellen Lower, who passed on last Friday, at her home in Creswell. She was born at River Falls, Minnesota, November 4, 1899, and lived in Creswell since 1912. She was a member of Creswell Presbyterian

Farm Leaders In Oregon Endorse Crop Insurance

Federal all-risk crop insurance, now being offered to Oregon growers on 1946 wheat crops, has been strongly endorsed by the heads of two major farm organizations in the state, according to William J. Enschede, chairman of the state AAA committee. Closing date for applying for insurance on fall sown wheat is September 30.

Support of the program by all farmers, both for protection on wheat now and for possible future extension of insurance to other crops, is urged by Morton Tompkins, master of the Oregon State Grange, and by Ronald Jones, president of the Oregon Farmers union.

In a letter to all subordinate and Pamona grange masters, Tompkins said: "I feel strongly that all Grangers should be interested in seeing to it that the crop insurance program succeeds. If the program on wheat is successful, we can look forward to the day when weather, insects, fire, disease and flood are removed from the hazards of farming."

Pointing out that crop insurance is a part of the Farmers Union national agricultural program, Jones, in a letter to the presidents of all locals, declared: "If we ever want crop insurance now is our chance to get behind this program and make it work while we have government support." He also stressed the self-sustaining mutual aspects of the program.

Both granges and union locals were urged by their state leaders to undertake sales agencies for federal crop insurance wherever possible. Such arrangements are being made in a number of counties, Enschede reported.

Hanging Rayon
If a rayon garment is to be hung, it is better to hang it over the line so that the weight is even on both sides. Rolling it in a towel is more satisfactory than hanging it. If only a few rayon garments are being washed, this is easily done.

LOOK what grows on the "Lumber Tree"!

ONE Douglas Fir, 70 to 80 years old, produces 1000 board feet of lumber. Pictured at left is what this means in DIRECT payrolls, taxes and trade. Figures do not include all costs.

THIS is just the direct "growth" on each tree. Indirectly there "grows" still another crop of business for grocers, hardware stores, banks and the like, who serve the people who work with wood. The returns, direct and indirect, increase as more methods of utilizing wood are perfected.

Wood industries account for more than 60% of the living of Western Washington and Oregon!

THAT'S WHY THESE FACTS ARE IMPORTANT TO YOU:

- 14,500,000 acres of saw timber are ready for harvest.
- Young growing forests cover 7,800,000 acres.
- Over 2,000,000 acres are in privately-owned tree farms.
- Private forest industry and your government are placing "wood growing" on a permanent basis. This is being accomplished through re-seeding of logged-off land, planting seedlings in burned-over areas, and protection of forests from fire and disease.

THE GREATEST single contribution YOU can make to this program is to HELP PREVENT FOREST FIRES.
