Cool State

Wyoming has the coolest midsummer weather of any state in the Union. The average July temperature is 65.7 degrees.

SALMON TO BE BRANDED

In pursuance of planned efforts to bring back the salmon industry, which has suffered heavy reverses in the past few years, the state fish commission Tuesday launched the first of a series of experiments which will involve the "marking" of hundreds of thousands of young fish.

A crew of hatcherymen at Bonneville have started marking 50,000 silverside salmon, now about eight months old and four inches in length, preparatory to releasing them in the Columbia river for their migration to the ocean.

This experiment will be followed by another next spring when 50,000 more silversides 14 months old and 5½ inches in length will be liberated for the cycle journey to the sea.
