Army to Recall 1000 Officers

The War Department has announced the increase in quotas, for recall to active duty, of 1,000 National Guard and Reserve officers of all grades for service with the civil affairs division, and additional 40 for service with the intelligence division, 35 for service with foreign liquidation commission, and 50 additional for service with Finance Department.

This and previous authorizations make a total of 7,589 vacancies available to officers who have gone on inactive duty or terminal leave but who desire further active duty. War Department representatives indicated that this number may be increased in the near future.

Although the War Department is authorized to recall officers to active duty without their consent during the emergency, it is desired to fill these vacancies with volunteers. Accordingly, quotas have been established to meet the needs of each of the branches of service whose personnel problems have been made acute by the rapid demobilization of the Army.

Volunteers under this program may elect to serve for an unlimited length of time or for a 12, 18, or 24 month period. The War Department, recognizing that such volunteer officers should have some degree of assurance that their services will be utilized for the entire period for which they volunteer, plans for this policy to remain in effect until the Army obtains a permanent postwar status. At present, the War Department cannot foresee any circumstances which would cause separation of officer prior to the completion of their volunteer period.

Rural Pastors Ask for Support of Church Leaders

Greater recognition by church leaders of the important role played by rural pastors and their opportunities for community and religious service was stressed at the first Institute for Town and Country Pastors held recently at Oregon State college.

The institute brought together rural and country pastors from many sections of Oregon to hear visiting church authorities and Oregon State college staff members. Sponsored by the college in cooperation with the Oregon Council of Churches, the archdiocese of Portland and the Home Missions Council of North America, the institute is expected to be made an annual affair.

The rural pastor has just as much and perhaps more opportunity for service, probably needs more specialized training even tho his salary is less, and in most cases is just as able and efficient in his own way as is the city minister, it was pointed out.

One of the present needs, it was said, is to make the church leadership more conscious of opportunities in rural areas where religion was declared to be more a normal, natural thing than in cities. Greater recognition by the leaders would tend to keep able ministers in rural areas, it was said.

Msgr. L. G. Ligutti of Des Moines, executive secretary of the National Catholic Rural Life Conference, and Rev. Laing Sibbet, instructor in the San Francisco Theological Seminary, were among the visiting speakers.

Msgr. Ligutti said that efficiency in land use should be based more on what kind of human beings the soil produces than by merely material production. Explaining the close relationship of the soil with civilization, he pointed out that "wherever you see eroded land you'll find eroded people." The Rev. Mr. Sibbet called for greater enthusiasm among rural pastors, who he said can either make or break religious life in a rural community. Speakers agreed that there is more concern and increased interest in rural churches than ever before.

LATHAM

Roy Harris Home Burned
The second residential fire in this vicinity in less than a month was the sudden burning of the house occupied by Roy Harris near the Anderson mill Sunday morning at two o'clock. The flames were well advanced when the family awakened to find a way out. The last youngster to be carried out was rescued by a narrow margin and Mrs. Harris was burned in saving the child. Besides the six Harris (Walker) children, two other children were spending the night there. Absolutely nothing could be saved but the scanty clothing on their backs as a warm night. The family spent the rest of the night at the Fred Harris home. They have secured a tent and neighbors and friends are assisting to help them get set up as circumstances will permit.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cramer and children of Portland visited at the O. A. Nichols home last week on the return trip from North Dakota. On Thursday Mrs. Nichols accompanied them to Portland to visit Mrs. J. E. Middleton of Prosser, Wash., who is in the hospital there. She and her husband have visited here several times.

Miss Florence Montgomery of Eugene returned Friday after a couple of days at the Nichols home.

Latham Camp Cookery Club No. 14 met at the J. A. Heath home after supper July 23. They camped over night and prepared their breakfast. The next meeting will be in the afternoon on August 6. All record books should be finished at this time as anyone who doesn't have it finished cannot go on the last big camping trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Williams took their granddaughter Sandra Lee Hammericksen to Eugene Sunday after having spent three weeks here.

Allen Lee Williams is expected to arrive in Tacoma soon where his parents will meet him.

Among out-of-town visitors at the C. G. lake Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Dresser of Vida, guests of the Ben Childsons, Mr. and Mrs. Pierce Trunell of Wilder, Idaho who were visiting the John Trunnells, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kappauf, their daughter Madelle and niece and family. The Kappaufs lived on the place where the speakers' platform was constructed.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Yates and son returned to Portland Sunday after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Trunell.

BIG SPRUCE TREE

The Siuslaw Oar tells of a big spruce tree that was felled in the vicinity of Florence the past week. A tree 11x12 feet in diameter and about 170 feet tall was cut recently in that section. Rings on the tree proved it to be about 200 years old.

APPRECIATES RELIEF EFFORT

Mrs. Ervin Hansen received a letter from the Russian Relief Inc. for Oregon of Portland, expressing appreciation of the association for the splendid work done here in behalf of the Russian relief. According to the letter the people of Oregon contributed 1,300,000 pounds of supplies in the past four years. The 150 knitting and sewing groups participating in the relief effort made 25,000 new garments in this period. An estimated 1,500 volunteers contributed 375,000 volunteer hours in the four year period.

A GLASS ENGINE, designed and built by Shell scientists, lets them actually see how oil stands up under today's new stresses

Today's more powerful gasolines call for this more "powerful" motor oil

REMEMBER your first tankful of good, postwar gasoline? What an improvement it was! But that added power put new strains on your engine — gave your motor oil a tougher job.

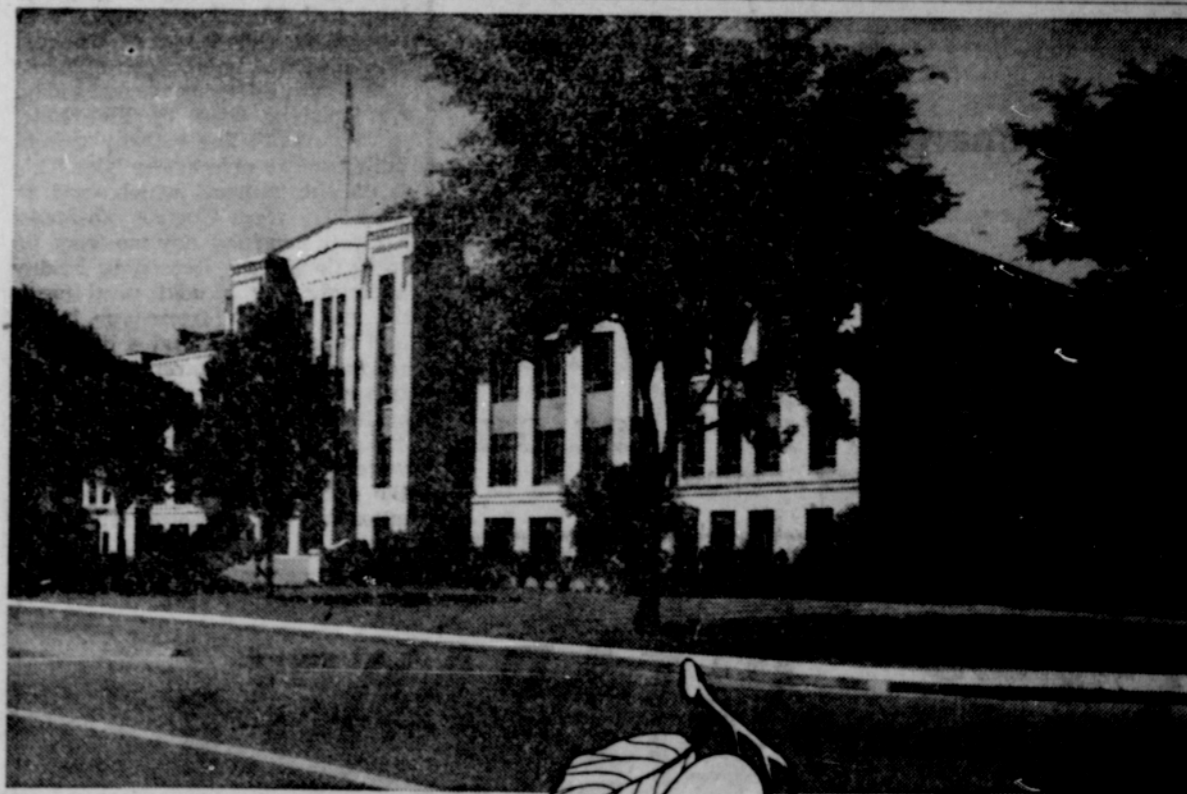

To handle this extra lubrication load, new Golden Shell Motor Oil is fortified... made more "powerful." It has an oxidation inhibitor that fights gums, lacquers and sludge. And without these to clog oil lines and screens, your engine gets better lubrication.

We believe the added protection New Golden Shell gives your engine, new or old, is worth while! If you think so, too, ask the man at the Shell pump for New Golden Shell, the largest selling 25¢ oil in the West.

MEET MEDFORD

"The Pear City"

To live in Medford is to live in a garden of fruit trees and blossoms. Orchards extend on all sides of the city, and most homes have pear or apple trees in their yards. An extensive park system and civic center adds beauty to the city; a long-time planning program has made Medford an orderly community, although its population has tripled in 25 years.

The commercial life of Medford centers on its pear industry which ships about 3000 carloads annually to the rest of the world. Other crops and vast timber resources in the Rogue River Valley have created an atmosphere of unsurpassed prosperity in Medford.

Greyhound increases Medford prosperity, linking it to the rest of the State. Medford, with a mild climate and roads that give ready access to Crater Lake, Rogue River Gorge, the Oregon Caves, Table Rock, and a great variety of fishing and hunting reserves, has nationwide renown. Thousands of visitors, as well as the Medford citizens who travel throughout Oregon, depend on Greyhound to provide the best in convenient, intercommunity bus service.
