Claim Antarctic
Maps listing Antarctic explorations show no less than nine nations with claims to parts of the vast frozen area. They range from Amundsen's 1911 claim in behalf of Norway for an area with a radius of 110 miles from the South Pole itself to a pinpoint on the Ross Ice Shelf claimed by Shirase for Japan in 1912. The other interested nations, besides the United States and Great Britain, are Australia, France, Belgium, Germany and Russia.

Marry Earlier
Young people today are marrying at an earlier age than did their grandparents, according to the University of California.
