WAY BACK TO NORMAL LIVING

We are in a sort of a vicious circle it seems to us and are going along with the spiral of inflation. It is unfortunate that we can't agree on a stopping place.

Recessions are caused by the fact that man in general is too selfish to make any effort to find a stopping place so far as prices go.

Both management and labor ought to recognize that there has to be a stopping place to prices eventually and that holding the price line is one way to avoid a catastrophe.

History tells us that Rome fell because its leaders could not agree on sensible national policy and a sensible policy of living.

CONFUSION ABOUT PARKING METERS

There has been some confusion in the minds of the public as to when the officers should start enforcing the parking meter ordinance which was passed Monday night by the city council.

At any rate city officials stated the reason for no more notice on the enforcement of parking meters was due to the fact the company supplying the parking meters has not yet finished the installation of all meters and that it may be some time before this is done.

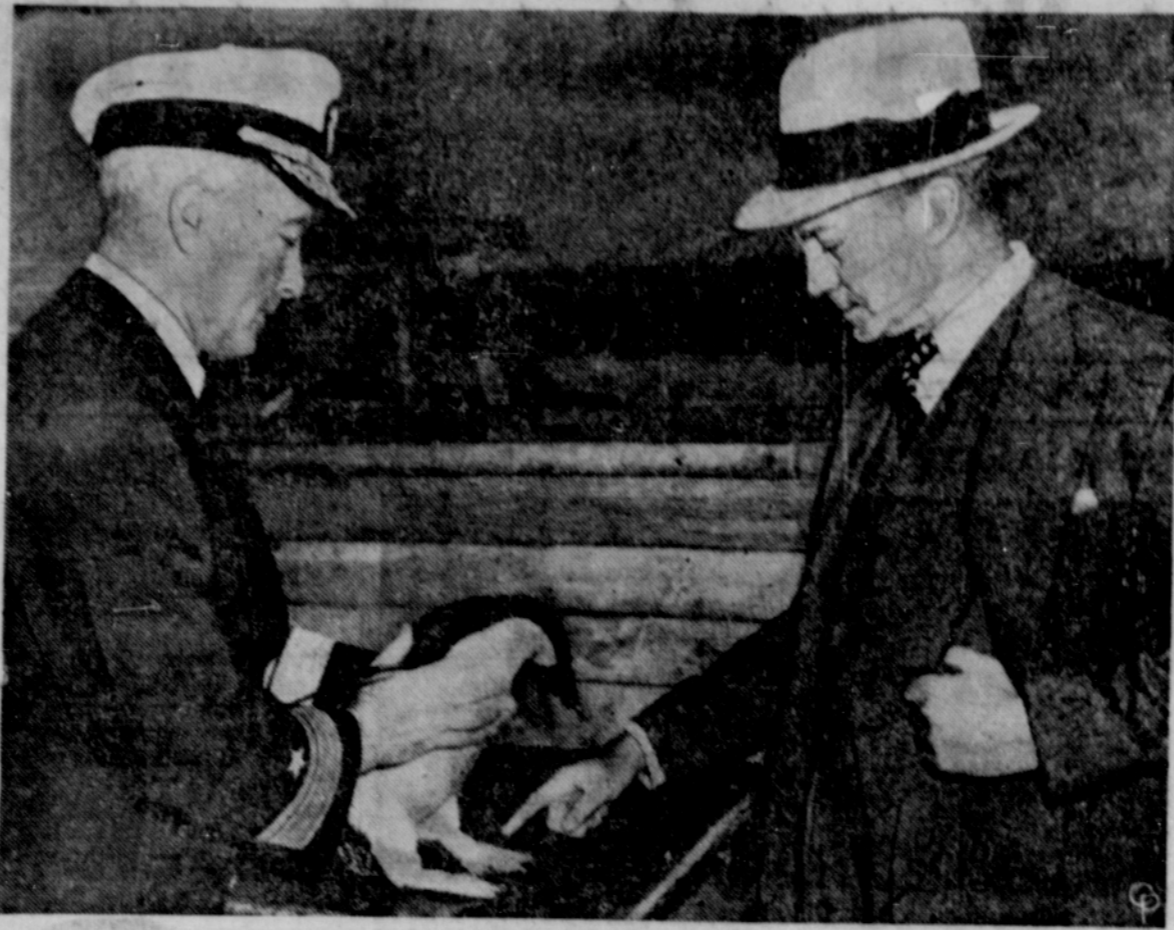

(P. S. We had the honor or dishonor of getting one of the first tickets issued.)

NEW TOWN ALONG THE HIGHWAY

Cottage Grove's newest business district may be along the highway. At least along highway 99 is where most of the business building activity is at the present time and the builders tell us the reason for building along the highway is that business property along Main street is out of reason.

Maybe business should not be scattered along the highway, but at least it will have one advantage, it will give the stranger a better impression of the town.

BYRD GREETED AT END OF ANTARCTIC VOYAGE

Mostly Static

By "Shorty" Smith

Howdy Folks; Auto accidents are on the increase. Almost daily we read of tragic cases on the highway.

Such accounts of suffering dampen our ardor as far as writing humor is concerned.

Many drivers are in such a hurry to get into the next county, they keep right on going into the next world.

Too many drivers try to "horn" in.

Reckless drivers are seldom wreckless long.

Reckless drivers must go, but why do they have to go so fast?

Just remember, folks, it's better to be a small pebble on the beach than a large tombstone.

We'd like to have you remember us next time you need lighting fixtures.

Drive down (safely) and see us, won't you?
