Scott-Cone Troth Plighted Sunday

In a beautiful garden setting at the home of the bride, the natural beauty enhanced by addition of regalia, hydrangea, and laurel green in profusion arranged artistically both as a background for the ceremony and along the bridal path, Miss Eleanor Louise Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Scott, of Roseburg, and Elmer Roland Cone, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ransom Cone, were united in marriage Sunday afternoon, June 29 at five o'clock in the afternoon. Rev. Frank E. Brown of this city read the double ring ceremony before an assembly of about 50 relatives and close friends of the couple. Music was by means of records, and included "Love You Truly," and "Be-cause," as well as the wedding marches.

Given in marriage by her father, the dark-haired bride was lovely in a period dress of white sheer marquisette with lace yoke, having fitted bodice and a short train. She wore a finger-tip veil fashioned to a Juliet cap, and carried a bouquet of white gladioli flowers with center of red roses.

Mrs. Kelly Johnson, of Eugene, was matron of honor and she wore a floor-length gown in pink, with matching bow in her hair. Miss Edith Goode, from San Francisco, the bridesmaid, wore also a floor-length gown in deep rose, with matching bow in her hair. Both carried nosegays of pink carnations and pink roses.

Flower girls were Janet and Nancy Cone, nieces of the groom, wearing pink and blue dotted marquisette dresses and carrying baskets of rose petals which they strewn in the path of the bride.

Leslie Cone, brother of the groom, was best man, and Robert Scott, brother of the bride, with Kelly Johnson, both of Eugene, ushered.

The young couple received congratulations of their friends in the garden, and refreshments were served in the house. Cutting the bride's cake was Mrs. Loring McLaughlin, of this city; serving punch were Mrs. Claude McCulley and Mrs. Frances Toie, aunts of the bride. The bridesmaids assisted about the rooms. Mrs. Robert Scott had charge of the guest book.

Mr. and Mrs. Cone left for a short honeymoon at the beach but will return here to make their home for the summer. For her going away outfit the bride chose a green wool dressmaker suit, with white accessories and a corsage from her wedding bouquet.

The young people are well known here. Mrs. Cone having taught in Jefferson school the past three years, and Mr. Cone has been in the law office of H. W. Lombard. He is attending the University in Eugene and expects to return there in the fall.

Passenger Column

If the 25 billion passengers who ride the nation's street cars, trolley coaches and gas buses each year were lined up together, they would make a column more than one-quarter mile wide extending from New York to Los Angeles.

Mr and Mrs J. E. Banton Celebrate 50th Wedding Anniversary Sunday the 29th

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Banton of London celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday, June 29, with a basket dinner on the church grounds following the church service at which time C. H. Shipp, of Sacramento, Calif., did the preaching. Mr. Shipp is a son-in-law of the Bantons and a former resident.

Around 150 friends and relatives gathered to honor the couple who have been residents of this community for 41 years. A program had been arranged for the afternoon and it consisted of a quartet by Roy Goodwin, Mrs. Edgar Wood, Max and Jack Bradford, a solo by Mrs. Lois Abene, a duet by Gloria and Marie Clark, a solo by CharVee Wood, and a duet by Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Goodwin.

As an added feature Mr. and Mrs. Banton repeated their marriage vows in a setting similar to the original, beneath the shade of the trees and nature's own beauty as a background. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Marlow, of Eugene, old friends and former residents, who celebrated their 50th anniversary two years ago. Gerald Banton, their son, of Eugene, performed the ceremony, and four little great-granddaughters, Gloria and Linda Stimmel, of Blackbutte, Farys Lusk, of Cottage Grove, and Annie Franklin of Albany, preceded the couple carrying small baskets trimmed with yellow ribbon, and scattered rose petals in their pathway. Baskets of yellow gladioli were used to carry out the color scheme.

A three-tiered cake decorated in gold was presented the couple by their four children, Mrs. Nola Shipp, of Sacramento, Calif., B. G. Banton of Eugene, Glen Banton, and Mrs. Garland Abene, both of London.

Besides the four children, there are 17 grandchildren, and 8 great grandchildren, all of whom were present except one grandson, James Banton, who is in the service.

Among the guests were Mrs. Mary Williams, of Monroe, a sister of Mr. Banton; L. H. Rycraft, of Corvallis; Joe Rycraft, of Glendale, Calif., former neighbors of the family when they lived in the Alsea valley more than 41 years ago. Mrs. "aunt" Carry Starr, of Cottage Grove, whose acquaintance dates back to before their marriage; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Shipp, now of Harper, Oregon, but recently of Pepperdine college in Los Angeles, where he was recently elected student body president for the coming year. He is an art major at the college. Maxine Banton, of Eugene, a granddaughter, is also a student of Pepperdine, majoring in music. Others here for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs.

Dick Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Franklin and three children, and Bob Franklin, all of Albany. Mrs. Paul Franklin will be remembered as Geraldine Banton who made her home here with her grandparents until she finished grade school.

Mrs. Lucille Lusk and Maxine Banton, both Granddaughters, were in charge of the guest book, and Tom Clark served as master of ceremonies.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served following the program and opening of the gifts, then the family and close friends went to the Banton home where a photographer was on hand to take pictures.

Gerald Banton at one time was on the Sentinel staff, when Elbert Bede owned the paper, and Nola Banton Shipp was employed in the local telephone office and the Mountain States Power company before her marriage. Both attended high school here.

Mr. and Mrs. Banton and family wish to thank their many friends who made the day a grand occasion, long to be remembered.

Many lovely gifts were presented the couple, including an all wool blanket from the London Church of Christ, a beautiful white bedspread from the Cottage Grove Church of Christ, a floor lamp, electric mixer and set of silverware from their children.
