PEOPLE ARE THAT WAY
Perhaps a good many of our readers saw the article in the current Reader's Digest on the problems of operating a rest room. There is food for thought in this article, but no attempted explanation as to why so-called decent people will mess a rest room up or litter a camp ground.

It does partly explain why many of the local merchants have been reluctant to support a community rest room or throw their own rest rooms open to the public. Most any Monday morning you can find the recreational area at the Cottage Grove lake littered with bread wrappers, pieces of paper, beer and pop bottles. Somebody has to clean this mess up. The average service station operator will tell you one of the problems connected with the operation of a filling station is keeping the rest rooms clean.

It has been said that the most ancient thing that can be found is yesterday's daily newspaper. This is not true with the weekly newspaper, perhaps because it is not published as frequently. Maybe the fact that it is issued only once each week is one factor in keeping it from going stale for the weekly newspaper stays around the average home for at least four or five days after it is printed.

THE PRICE OF PROSPERITY
A number of people are not too old to remember back in the early thirties and the political campaigns waged then. And if you have a fairly good memory perhaps you will recall the efforts of the liquor interests in trying to bring back whiskey and beer. The voters were told that the principal thing then needed was to legalize liquor.

This of course was just another political campaign promise. But now that they have prosperity following the war we have along with the prosperity and liquor, the greatest wave of juvenile delinquency the nation has ever witnessed, the greatest number of mental patients in our hospitals and the mental wrecks. Not all of course could be charged to excessive drinking, but this is responsible for most of the moral trouble which is happening today.

It may be prosperity all right, but the price is pretty great. If we may accept statistics at their face value.

FLIES DOWN TO ATTEND BIRTHDAY PARTY
The modern way to attend a birthday party is to fly. That's what visiting guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Nichols did Sunday when they flew down from Lebanon to attend a birthday party for the 2-year-old son of the Nichols. Not all the guests used the airplane, however, some came by car. Robert Vaughn of Lebanon, brother of Mrs. Nichols, with his wife, Mrs. Vaughn, flew down from Lebanon in their Piper cub. Other visiting guests from Lebanon who drove down were: Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Nichols, parents of Mr. Nichols, and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Vaughn, parents of Mrs. Nichols, accompanied by a son, Darrell.

Nothing Fishy
Japanese anglers finally got a chance to try their luck in the long-forbidden imperial moat. But hundreds who tried hard went home empty handed. For 74 years it had been illegal to cast for the emperor's stock of carp, catfish and turtles.

Fat Salvage
The total fat salvaged during the campaigns conducted from 1942 to 1947 amounted to 739,965,267 pounds and about 5/7 of this was saved by American homemakers.

Large German Ruins
German experts estimate that war ruins of Germany amount to 523 million square yards.
