STRAWBERRY RULES DRAWN UP

Official grades for strawberry plants produced in Oregon have been drawn up by the state department of agriculture, following hearing recently held in Salem, and became effective January 26. The grades apply to plants of the Marshall variety and those of similar characteristics. They do not apply to some of the everbearing varieties, on which grades may be established if the demand is evidenced. Grades and standards were requested by growers with a view to improving the general quality of strawberry plants.

Under the standards, the first ever established in Oregon for strawberry plants, two grades are established: Oregon No. 1 Size A and Oregon No. 1 Size B. Both grades must comply with certain requirements relating to condition and freedom from dangerous pests or disease. The size A plants must have not less than 14 main roots at least four inches in length and the minimum crown diameter shall be 5/16 inch measured at the base of the crown, with the added provision that at least 50 per cent of the plants must have a crown diameter of one-half inch or more and must have attached at least 25 main roots.

If you have been doing a household job of painting and the paint runs and sags, it may be caused by putting the paint on too thick and not brushing it out. It sags under its own weight.

has this to say

Things which we think will help us to be proud of our town (mentioned in order, as they have been mentioned to us).

WASH the paved streets, give that rolling whisk-broom back to the maker.

Grade and roll the unpaved streets. Open up the drain gutters that people have dumped full of gravel.

Promote a Voluntary campaign of clean-up and paint-up; and encourage parking strip planting and yard beautification. HOW? By giving tax rebates to those who improve their property — rather than soaking them for making improvements.

Repair those street-lites, and increase their power all over town.

Keep all stores open one night each week (NOT the same night that Eugene is open).

Get behind some plan to have one night a week devoted to special amusement for everyone; a dance, band concert, drum corps parade, special stage show, amateur play, a special movie, ALWAYS THE SAME NITE each week.

Have a featured Church program each Sunday, given by the denominations in turn.

LET'S HAVE NO REASON TO SAY, "NOTHING EVER GOES ON IN COTTAGE GROVE."

Organize a Board of Trade composed solely of merchants whose purpose it shall be to allocate seldom-called-for items among the stores of the town. LET'S GET RID OF THIS GO-TO-EUGENE & Get IT business. Let's hear them say, "Sure, you can get in C.G."

MAKE THE TOWN SOMETHING TO BRAG ABOUT, AND THEN BRAG.
