Deep Purple Is Theme of Junior Senior Prom May 21

"Deep Purple" in decoration and verse was the theme of the Junior-Senior banquet and prom at the Union High School last Friday. The cafeteria of the school as banquet hall and the gymnasium as ball room were both transformed into gardens, with surrounding improvised rock wall and growing vines enhanced by beautiful flowers from real gardens.

The large gymnasium was divided in half by white picket fence and laticed gateway also covered with trailing vines. One side of the hall was then used for dancing and the other filled with small tables to be used by the dancers and guests as a place to rest and engage in conversation while enjoying a drink of cool, refreshing punch. This was served by pretty girls with tiny white crepe paper aprons, (the girls being from the freshman and sophomore classes.)

Along one side of the room were lounges and easy chairs for the comfort of patrons and patronesses. Adding to the coziness of the big hall was the effect of a low ceiling. This had been created by literally hundreds of deep purple streamers radiating from the center light, over arched gateway, to the sides of the gym. In the banquet hall motifs of the musical staff and notes had been painted at intervals along the wall to remind one of the "Deep Purple" song.

The banquet menu was especially good, and included cocktail, fried chicken, with all the trimmings, and strawberry shortcake. This was planned and served by Miss Eleanor Brunquist of the Home Economics department, Mrs. Opal Jones and Mrs. Albrecht of the cafeteria staff, assisted by a bevy of girls.

Harlan Mickey, president of the junior class was toastmaster and the program presented seemed to be very much enjoyed by all. It was as follows: invocation, Rev. Frank E. Brown; welcome, Harlan Mickey, junior class; response, John Leonard, senior class; piano solo, "Punchinello" (Herbert), Betty Dyksterhuis; clarinet duet, "Trio" (Beethoven), Charlotte Aldridge and Sarah Jenkins; humorous speech, Norma Bradley; solo, "Always" (Berlin), Martha Roy; toast, H. B. Ferrin. Piano music during the banquet was furnished by the Meses Evelyn Garman, Virginia Dailey, and Barbara Gleason.

Committee chairmen in preparation of the evening were: banquet decorations, Shirley Hileman; program, Betty Dyksterhuis; menu, Patricia Scott; prom decorations, Sheron Peterson; theme, Carol Lemert; refreshments, Laura Porter; invitations, Barbara Nelson. Faculty advisers were Miss Lottie Lee Lamb, Mrs. Ethel Krause, Miss Eleanor Brunquist and Roger Peterson.

RNA HOLD PRACTICE SESSION

Royal Neighbors met Tuesday night to practise for the R.N.A. district convention which will meet in Bend June 7. Those desiring transportation should call Edna Burleson. Just Right For Daytime

Navy blue crepe frock.

By VERA WINSTON

THERE ARE some dresses that seem exactly right for any day and for any but formal occasions. Such a frock is this wearable model of navy silk crepe with a design of dainty pink bouquets. The bolero is a simulated effect and serves to minimize the waistline. The shoulders are gently flanged and the sleeves are flatteringly to the sometimes far-from-perfect upper arm. The skirt is gently flared.

ATTEND PANSY RING CEREMONY

Miss Marie Lombard was chairman of the style show which followed the Delta Delta Delta traditional Pansy ring ceremony last Sunday morning in Eugene. The rites, which are annually observed by Tri-Delta, require all engaged senior women of the sorority to step through the large floral ring, following a breakfast which honors all senior women. Going from here to the festivities were Mrs. Herbert Lombard, Mrs. Orlo Bagley, her mother, Mrs. Smith, Corvallis, and Mrs. Georg Bjorset. Miss Lombard, Miss Sara Bjorset, and Miss Betty Lou Bagley participated in the events.

MES. DRENNER, WICKS JOINT HOSTESSES

Mrs. Robert S. Drenner and Mrs. Alvis Wicks were joint hostesses on Thursday afternoon at a luncheon for the Ad Libitum and Social Twelve club members. The affair was held at the Wicks country home above Culp Creek, and following the delicious luncheon the afternoon was spent socially. Spring flowers, especially the lovely dogwood blossoms which are so timely at present, decorated the rooms and table centers. During the luncheon Don Wicks entertained with music from electric guitar.

Those who attended were Mrs. Olivia Eakin, Mrs. Maude Wright, Mrs. Nannie Smith, Mrs. Bessie Sutcliffe, Mrs. Ora Hemenway, Mrs. Cora Compton, Mrs. C. F. Hoskins, Mrs. A. C. Woodard, Mrs. P. C. Christensen, Mrs. Elmer Kent, Mrs. C. E. Akerblade, Mrs. A. W. Wooley, Mrs. Margaret Fern, Mrs. Helen Dillman, Mrs. Louise Cone and Mrs. Nellie Christianson of Eugene, Mrs. Frank Bradford, Mrs. Vinal Randall, a guest, C. F. Hoskins enjoyed the luncheon as a driver of one of the cars. This is the last meeting until fall for the two clubs, except for a summer picnic.
