CRESWELL

New City Well

Drillers working on the new well for the city have gone down a total of 248 feet. Lighter flows of water were struck at shallower levels but it was decided to go farther for a heavier flow which they now have. It was necessary to go through approximately 88 feet of bedrock. The well has been cased off for a depth of 162 feet and bailing tests have been run. Engineers from Portland will make an accurate test of the flow soon and it is expected to be satisfactory.

Scholarships to UO

Two Creswell students have received scholarships in the University of Oregon by the high school relations committee of the state board of higher education. The students are Bonita Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Miller, a third year major in biology; and Joyce Everson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Everson and a freshman in music.

Food to Vanport

The directors of the high school packed three large boxes of fruit that had been canned by the home makers class and sent them to the Vanport food victims through the local relief agency. Many other items such as clothing and dishes have been collected and are being sent also.
