Good Salad Suggestions

By ALICE DENHOFF

SALAD making is an art and a delight, and if the family just picks at a salad, chances are that it is the same old tired-looking greens with an indifferent dressing, or that even if it is a nice salad, day after day of the same old fare becomes monotonous, to say the least.

More than one restaurant has risen to fame on countless bowls of beautiful salad concoctions, a joy to look at, and good, healthful eating.

This is the time of year to bring salads to table so here are some ideas. Use cooked broccoli stalks (thriftily thought) in your salads. Cut them in julienne strips, marinate, if you like, in French dressing, and serve with green or vegetable salads. Cauliflower, raw and crunchy, in little flowerets, is excellent in salads. Cauliflower and broccoli make a good combination. Try them with a little sliced orange, some green pepper and chopped celery with a tart dressing.

Inside Leaves

Tender inside leaves of raw spinach, make excellent salad greens. Use the juices of canned fruits for fruit cups, to thin mayonnaise and to mix with French dressings. Chop raw cranberries and shower them through a coleslaw for taste and eye appeal.

Lettuce need not always be the king pin of salad greens. Try healthful watercress or good curly endive. Canned fruit needs make a wonderful fruit salad garnish, nice long strips of them.

Salad Suggestions

Now for some salad suggestions. A salad of green peppers, tomatoes and onions is a household standby in New Orleans, and a healthy affair it is, too. Slice 4 tomatoes, one large onion and 2 green peppers nice and thin. Arrange on a dish, placing a layer of tomatoes, an alternate layer of onion, green pepper and tomatoes mixed. Dress either before bringing to the table, or at the table, with plain French dressing. Fruit added to chicken salad, as it is done in California, adds something different to a staple main salad. Combine equal parts of cold cooked chicken cut in small pieces, and cut celery; moisten with French dressing. Allow to stand long enough to marinate. When ready to serve, add a tbsp. of diced orange, and peeled and seeded white grapes to each portion of chicken salad. Serve on crisp lettuce garnished with mayonnaise.

WALKER UNION CHURCH

A special meeting was held following regular morning worship on Sunday, July 4, at which time Rev. Frank Gray was engaged to regularly supply the pulpit left vacant by the resignation of Ronald Lundy, who is moving to Chicago to continue his studies of the ministry.

LATHAM

Eldon Whitehead took his family by plane to Wallowa to visit his folks over the July 4th week end. They returned Tuesday.

Merle Porter flew to Salem Saturday and got Anthony Thomas to visit his sister Lorraine Porter for a few days.

The Leon Godards and J. Graham spent the week end at Lakeview.

The Roy Means spent the 4th at Redmond.

Jim and Bob Means spent the 4th with a group who went to the coast for the week end.

Jerry Wolleat of near Grants Pass spent from Saturday to Monday at the Mads Overgaard home. His father, Richard Wolleat of Glendale, also visited there.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Hull and children of Vancouver, Wash. are spending the week at the C. S. Plaster home.

R. E. Yates of Portland spent Wednesday night at the Hugh Trunnell home.

The peak of the strawberry season is past but they will be available for some weeks yet. Kenish cherries are about gone. The Lamberts and Royal Anne cherries will be about a month later than usual if you can find any. Raspberries, loganberries and youngberries are beginning to ripen. Boysenberries will be later. The best matured hay crop for several years was drenched by the rain Monday. Most of the hay was in shock.

The sons and daughters of W. T. Garoutte held a picnic July 5. Mrs. Earl Gridley will return to her home near Redmond, the last of the week. Belva Garoutte will accompany her for a two weeks visit.

4-H Club

Mrs. Floyd's Camp Cookery club was held June 29th at the home of Lavelle Shillings. The next meeting will be held July 13th at 11:00 a.m. at the grange hall where demonstrations on biscuit baking will be given by Dick Heath and Joe Crepeau, and will be judged by Jeanne Crepeau and Catherine Heath.

The third year sewing club was held June 22 at the home of C. H. Stout. A discussion was held relative to having all 4-H clubs of Latham enter one float in the Cottage Grove Regatta parade.

The first year Sewing club met at the home of Peggy Pynch July 6th. Dana Whitney was elected secretary, and the leader talked on exhibits. The next meeting will be August 19th at the same place.

John Wesley

John Wesley, the founder of Methodism, was the author of the maxim, "Cleanliness is next to Godliness." Like most crusaders, he met enormous opposition in his own day.

First Horses

The colippus, or dawn horse, was about the size of a red fox, scientists tell us, and had a horse-like mane and tail. His front feet had four toes and his hind feet had three. By the time the Ice Age had arrived his descendants had spread all over the world, and he lived on all the continents except Australia.

Wooden Nail Ties Best

In the last 80 years, more than 2,500 patents have been issued for railroad ties made of substances other than wood, but not one has been able to effectively or economically replace timber, according to Chicago and North Western railway forestry agents.

They call the newest modes in women's clothes the "new look." But to men it doesn't call for a second look.
