

CITY BRIEFS

Miss Belle Burkholder, who flew from Eugene to Alaska last week wrote the Sentinel from the Baranof hotel in Juneau, Alaska that she was having a wonderful time. She says prices are high in Juneau, but higher in other Alaska points, which she plans to visit. The Baranof hotel coffee shop lists one egg any style at 50 cents, chicken fried steak is not much more expensive than in the states, but salmon, for which Alaska is famous is out of sight, she says. Miss Burkholder states that she planned to leave for home on the 25th. Having to do without meals and lose sleep on account of the buggy weather, she says she will no doubt be just a shadow of her former self when she arrives home.

8th Annual Ram Sale to Be Given At Albany Aug. 7

The eighth annual Willamette Valley Purebred Ram and Ewe Sale will be conducted in the Linn County Fair Building, Albany, on Saturday, August 7, at 10:00 A.M., according to an announcement just received by Count Agent O. S. Fletcher.

Sold at auction will be 150 head of Willamette Valley's finest registered rams and ewes, namely, Romney, Southdown, Suffolk, Lincoln, Cheviot, Hampshire, Shropshire, Dorset, and Corridale.

The purpose of the sale as announced in the general regulations are:

1. To assist purebred sheep in securing an outlet for their high quality rams and ewes at reasonable prices.

2. To assist farm flock, range and purebred breeders to secure high quality rams and ewes at a central location.

3. To improve sheep production through the introduction of good rams and ewes.

4. To popularize the use of good rams in the Willamette Valley.

Any Lane County sheep breeder desiring further information on the rules and regulations in the office of County Agent Fletcher, or can write directly to O. E. Mikesell, Secretary of the Purebred Ram and Ewe Sale, Court House, Albany, and obtain a catalogue.

You'll find it in the classified. Pages 14 and 15.
