Howdy Folks: A man was arrested in Wyoming for killing a deer with his auto.

We'll bet he tried to pass the buck.

Deer is not beef, but beef is still dear.

Which reminds us that there never is a peak to rising prices, but there are many piques.

We heard that big game hunter is one that can spot a leopard. On the other hand, where there's a big game hunter, there's usually a couple of big game hunters.

Many men who brag of their hunting experiences are probably referring to their ability to shoot pool, craps and bull.

We're always on the hunt for new customers. We'll welcome new ones just as we do the regulars, too.

Fish Instead of Meat

Fish makes a good meat substitute in these days of high meat prices. Many types of fish are cheaper than many cuts of meat, yet the nutritive value of fish is high.

Culling Out Lazy Hens

When a poultryman culls his flock, his aim is to weed out all the hens that are not doing their fair share of egg laying.

MT. VIEW

Rain has slowed up work on the dam, so families are moving elsewhere. This will cut down the enrollment of our school.

Mt. View Extension Unit will hold their first fall meeting at the home of Mrs. Chas. Bales, 10:30, for an all day meeting. "Unpainted Furniture" will be the topic.

There will be no school this Thursday and Friday as the teachers will be in Eugene at the grade school institute.

Dick Duer was brought home last Saturday from the hospital. He will be confined to his bed for sometime yet but is recovering fine.

Several hunters have got their deer, but those that started at home fields have been having better luck than those that went east of the mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Ellison of Whittier, Calif., are visiting at the Clinton Dilbeck home. They plan to locate here.
