Mills Getting the 1-2 Punch From Strike, Shortage

Portland, Oregon, Oct. 21 -- West Coast sawmills are getting the one-two punch from the crippling water front strike and a serious freight car shortage in the southern Oregon territory which is disrupting production schedules and demoralizing shipping of lumber, according to H. V. Simpson, Executive Vice President of the West Coast Lumbermen's association.

September reports from Douglas fir mills reflect the critical situation, Simpson said, which has either completely closed or reduced a score of coastal mills to part-time operation, throwing many hundreds of men out of employment. Coos Bay, Siuslaw Harbor, Newport Bay and Grays Harbor mills are the hardest hit, with some Columbia River mills reporting curtailment of production because of inability to ship.

Southern Oregon mills on the Southern Pacific system are short of needed freight cars, and some mill on branch lines are accumulating heavy mill stocks due to shortage of cars. Mills are complaining, too, that they are getting cattle cars and other unsuitable rolling stock for lumber shipping.

The weekly average of West Coast Lumber production in September was 169,958,000 board feet or 107.6% of the 1942-1947 average. Orders averaged 151,174,000 board feet; Shipments 153,017,000 board feet. Weekly averages for August were: Production 185,664,000 board feet (117.6% of the 1942-1947 average); Orders 165,001,000 board feet; shipments 177,751,000 board feet.

Thirty-nine weeks of 1948 cumulative production 6,643,848,000 board feet; thirty-nine weeks of 1947, 6,449,817,000 board feet; thirty-nine weeks of 1946, 5,834,304,000 board feet.

Orders for thirty-nine weeks of 1948 break down as follows: Rail 4,574,428,000 board feet. Domestic Cargo 851,969,000 board feet. Export 273,851,000 board feet. Local 757,005,000 board feet.

The industry's unfilled order file stood at 586,007,000 board feet at the end of September. Gross stocks at 789,849,000 board feet.

Strength of Jewish Army

Haganah, the first Hebrew army to take the field in the Holy Land in 2,000 years, is unofficially estimated to be 53,000 strong in full battle strength. With universal conscription, Haganah has at its disposal the full manpower of Jewish Palestine. All Jews between the ages of 18 and 35 get red conscription cards, after their medical examinations, showing their call-up dates. Fathers and only sons are exempt.
