FFA-FHA Hold Annual Bar B-Q

There were 45 dressed chickens on a wire rack over the hot coals of the Ag-shop forge; twenty gallons of home-made cider in milk cans nearby to quench the thirst of more than 100 students. Ten freezers of ice cream (the hand crank kind) stood near the door ready to make the second course of the barbecue prepared and served by the FFA. Guests were the FHA members.

The party began at 7.30 p.m. and group games were played in the gym until the barbecue supper was served at 9:00 o'clock.

Preceding the party the FFA held a business meeting in the shop. There are 85 members in the organization including the 25 green hands to be initiated soon.

Boys Put Out Forest Fire Sunday

Dick Clark and Herb Fuller discovered a fire, well on its way to becoming a forest fire, apparently left by other hunters, Sunday noon while hunting up Bennett Creek. The two boys hastened home to get shovels, an ax and buckets for water. After four hours, the boys finally extinguished the fire and returned home, tired and hungry.

Such an effort toward "Keeping Oregon Green" is certainly worthy of mention. Had the boys not seen the fire, the public would be more aware of the dangers of careless hunters.

Herb Fuller has been a member of "Green Guard" for several years.

Footstools Are Fashioned by The Hundreds

Women connected with home economics extension units in 12 counties of the state have completed a total of 1788 footstools during a 12 months' period, it was revealed recently in a report made by Mrs. Myrtle Carter, O. S. C. extension specialist in home furnishings and clothing.

Average cost for the footstools, which became attractive pieces of furniture in their owners' homes, was just $4.50.

Work on the footstools has been carried out in workshop projects conducted by volunteer leaders trained by home demonstration agents or by Mrs. Carter.

Linn county leads all others with a total of 314 footstools completed, according to the report. Purpose of the footstool project, Mrs. Carter states, was to teach fundamental principles of simple upholstery work which can be done by a homemaker in her own home. The work in footstools also prepared specialized groups for further training in upholstery work.

At each of the two-day workshops, the footstool was constructed from a simple frame made by the women or constructed in advance of the meeting. Workshop participants added springs, padding and upholstery material. Supplies for the projects were group-purchased and resold to the women.

In addition to Linn county, other counties taking part in the project and the number of footstools each completed is as follows: Benton, 209; Wasco, 158; Yamhill, 175; Curry, 75; Polk, 104 Lane, 21; Klamath, 111; Marion, 160; Coos, 218; Lincoln, 103; and Columbia, 140.

City Club Report Blasts Arguments AGAINST LIQUOR-BY-THE-GLASS!

For years the City Club of Portland has been noted for the thoroughness of its studies and the impartiality of its reports on candidates and political measures. A City Club report just submitted on the Oregon Liquor Dispensing Licensing Act (Knox Law Improvement) while making no specific voting recommendation, completely disposes of the arguments most commonly advanced against this measure.

Don't be fooled by the propaganda of the prohibitionists. Here are the facts, as reported by a City Club report composed of seven leading citizens, including a minister.

Arguments Against the Bill

1. It would increase drinking, drunkenness and alcoholism in Oregon.
2. The passage of this bill will lead to the return of wide open drinking throughout the state. A further possibility is the eventual breakdown of the Knox Law and complete revulsion by the public who would then hasten to dry up the state through local option elections.
3. Liquor will be consumed in public places such as restaurants and hotels which are frequented by women and children.
4. If the bill passes and if the serving of liquor by-the-glass is as profitable as the proponents believe it will be, tremendous political pressure will be exerted on the Oregon Liquor Control Commission for issuing of new licenses.
5. The bill is discriminatory because all establishments which would like to serve liquor by the drink will not be licensed.

The City Club report says this argument "depends upon the profits from selling liquor by the glass under this bill, and secondly upon the attitude and integrity of the Commission."

The City Club report says this argument "is valid only depending upon one's point of view. It discriminates against the beer taverns which cannot be licensed under this bill. However, with 277 restaurants (81 in Portland) and 405 clubs (18 in Portland) being potentially eligible to hold dispensing licenses under this proposed bill, your committee feels that the general public will not be discriminated against."

The City Club report clarifies the entire issue when it says: "The proposed bill would modify the present Knox Law only to the extent that it substitutes the dispenser's bottle for that of the customer's."

Oregon has much to gain and nothing to lose by improving the Knox Law. Why require purchase of a bottle? Legalize liquor by-the-glass.

Actually, this argument is downright silly.
