First Thespian Society Initiation Grants Membership to Seventeen

Initiation of the newly organized Thespian Society members was held in the library Wednesday evening, April 27. The officers; president, Champ Husted; secretary, Willa Durlinger; and treasurer, Bill Miller were in charge of the ceremony. Mrs. Ethel Krauss and Mr. Gardner Sellers are sponsors of the Thespians.

The public speaking class under the direction of Mrs. Krauss gave the seven phases in the history of drama. They were: speech, Florence Dunlevy; music, Martha Roy; dance, Janet Jones; Dionesius (the god of action), Flora Patten; Thespian, Ellen Madsen, church, Gwen Powell; and theater, Duane Coop. Candles were lit representing each phase and placed in a large "T" on the table which was decorated, in the colors of the society, with yellow rosebuds and blue iris.

The Thespian Society is for those students who have earned ten points or more by acting in a play, being on the production staff, or by some act of service through drama.

At the close of the ceremony the initiates and guests were entertained with a humorous poem entitled "The Shaving of Jacob" given by Naomi Hixson, a Negro comedy act by Dick Clark and Jerry Tennis and a ballet number, "Desert Song" by "Tyke" Brady.

High School Publications Reviewed

By Karen Madsen

Twelve issues of the Lions Roar, a 76 page annual, and the first handbook to be published in four years, were the projects completed by the Publications Department during the year, 1948-49. Advising the publications staff was Miss Crume, journalism teacher.

Publications class has been lots of fun for the approximate 25 students, who have worked informally together, in an effort to gather news, prepare the page makeup, write heads, solicit ads, and see that the stories get in print. All students in the publications department had to first complete a semester of journalism.

All is not work in publications. Last December the staff, and Miss Crume, held a potluck dinner in the home economics room, after which everyone worked at putting out the Christmas issue. After the staff was initiated into Quill and Scroll in the fall, refreshments were served to the new members and their guests, and everyone joined in singing songs, and playing games. Another highlight during the year, was the press conference, which was held November 5-6 at the University of Oregon. The five top members of the paper staff: Editor Betty Dyksterhuis, assistant editor, Karen Madsen; news editor, Mickey Snapp; publications manager, Sheron Peterson; and feature editor, Florence Hickethier attended.

Journalism is a subject which would be enjoyed by anyone who likes to write stories, work with other students on an interesting project, and participate in school affairs; for I believe that in no other activity can a student become more aware of what makes our school tick.—Lions Roar.

CARLSON HEADS GAA

Newly elected GAA officers for next year are as follows: president, Nadine Carlson; vice president, Carol Violette; secretary, Joan Crepeau; treasurer, Shari Crabb. Awards will be given in the regular award assembly at the end of the year.—Lions Roar.

BOYS SERVICE AWARDS TO BE PRESENTED

Herb Fuller, Dick Chapman, Sherman Spring, Bill Peters, Loran Meachum, and LeRoy Mitchell will receive Boys' Service Club pins for services rendered to the school. Boys must have 180 points or over to receive this pin, which is the highest award given in this organization.—Lions Roar.

RADIO RAY

Our Radio Ray Has This To Say!

We noticed Sunday that the new road signs out New River way now show the number of miles to Bohemia Mines again. For a while we thought that Fairview look-out and Umpqua forest was all that was left up there. With the increased interest in our mines being shown this year, any improvements in the roads thereto would surely be welcome to miners AND prospective investors. Direct shipment of concentrates by truck to Tacoma Smelter is now feasible if road conditions permit.

AND we have a shipment of over 700 motor starting capacitors HERE, for your convenience. If you are having trouble with your pump or refrigerator motor, see us.
