4-H Club Members Will Observe Rural Life Sunday

Lane County 4-H club members will join with 4-H club members from over the nation this coming Sunday in observance of Rural Life Sunday, announces Mrs. Melba Heide, county 4-H Extension agent.

On this Sunday 4-H club members will be encouraged to attend the church of their choice and in keeping with the Heart "H" direct their attention to development of their own spiritual lives. Club members are encouraged to think and discuss together on topics on home, community and world events in spiritual terms. This Sunday 4-H club members are also asked to direct their attention toward the character building qualities of 4-H club work and to realize their personal responsibility to the church of their choice.

The theme for this year is "Better Living for a Better World."

In many communities on this Sunday, 4-H club members are participating in church services, helping with the decoration of the church or even giving special programs.

The Blue Mountain Camp Cookery club, under the direction of Mrs. Lula Bettis, will present the program commemorating 4-H club Sunday over Radio Station KUGN at 11:45 a.m., Saturday, May 21st. The same program will be given May 22 at the
