SPRING FORMAL BANQUET HONORED GRADUATES

A recent affair of interest was the Spring Formal banquet held in the church parlors by the Baptist Youth Fellowship, in honor of its high school and eighth grade graduates. Each person to whom an invitation was sent was requested to bring a guest.

A profusion of spring flowers adorned the rooms. The tables were decorated with streamers of crepe paper, candles and red roses.

A mountain with a path leading to the top, cleverly constructed by Miss Mary Bush, objectified the senior class motto "Climbing Higher." These words were again seen on the mountain sketched on the cover of the menu-program booklet.

Directly after the banquet prepared by the women of the Dorena Society and served by members of Harmony Circle, the following program was presented: Invocation, Rev. Shinall; welcome, Miss Mary Bush; choruses by the group; greetings to graduates, Miss Betty Jo Hudson; response, Miss Loraine Robertson; vocal solo, "The Blind Pilgrim," Kenneth Bush; humorous reading, Miss Mary Parrett; musical numbers, Mr. and Mrs. J. Krantz; guest speaker, J. S. Krantz.

All present counted this a delightful occasion.

CORRECTION

Last week in announcing the engagement of Miss Mary Ann Atterbury to Robert J. Moore at Northwest Christian College "Spring Formal Dance" we wish to make a correction as to the dance part. We were misinformed on the information, and were dubious about the dance part.

It has been called to our attention by the college, stating they do not sponsor dances, but this was the "Spring Formal," a social function of an entirely different character. Our apologies to Northwest Christian College.
