NEW REPORTS SUCCESSFUL COMMUNITY CHEST DRIVE

At the Monday night meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club held in the city library, the report for the Community Chest collections was very gratifying, with $2,667.50 being turned in from the city and lumber companies. This is not a complete report for the lumber industries, nor the city, as more is coming in, and most of the mills are being turned in through another channel.

Plans were discussed for Business Women's Week, October 9-16 with the slogan being "Boost Your Town, It Boosts You." The following committee for this was appointed, chairman, Grace Skinner, Jessie Bartruff, Joan Gallo and Neli Bukowski.

The budget was presented by the budget committee, Hazel Tohlen,

Edna Pillar and Joan Gallo, and after a few changes, was accepted. The budget provides for local high school and Scout scholarships, a foreign scholarship and provisions for civic contributions.

Plans were made for the Southwest Oregon district conference to be held at Yoncalla Sunday, October 16. Anyone who has not signed up yet may do so by contacting Lottie Lee Lamb.

Miss Louise Walther is a new member who was welcomed into the club.

On October 17 the club will meet at the Rainbow cafe for a dinner meeting. The program will be in charge of the health and safety chairman, Dorothy Schaffner.

The five children of Mr. and Mrs. Rickard, with their sons-in-law and daughters-in-law, entertained at a reception held at the Leo Rickard home on Sunday, September 25, honoring their parents on their fiftieth wedding anniversary. Over one hundred relatives and friends called during the afternoon to congratulate the couple and extend well wishes. Many lovely gifts were presented to the honored couple.

Decorations of gold and bronze prevailed throughout the house. Glads, chrysanthemums and zinnias were the flowers used on the mantle and refreshment table, using a geometric circular arrangement of button chrysanthemums with a bowl of yellow chrysanthemums in the center of the table, with white candles on either side.

On the buffet was the two-tiered wedding cake decorated with gold leaves and topped with a wedding bell. White candles were also burning on the buffet. Mrs. Rickard wore a black lace dinner dress and corsage of yellow orchids, a gift from her children.

Their five children entertaining for them were Mr. and Mrs. Oran Rickard of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Schultz of Eugene; Mr. and Mrs. Earl McCarty, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Rickard and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Rickard of Cottage Grove. The Rickards had one other child, Delta, who died at the age of ten years.

Mr. and Mrs. Rickard were married at Bellfountain September 27, 1899 at the Star home. They have resided in the Willamette Valley all their lives except two years spent in California. Mr. Rickard spent most of his life as a farmer, but the last 20 years prior to his retirement a year ago were spent as an engineer at Sacred Heart hospital, Eugene. Both are active members in the Presbyterian church, and Mrs. Rickard is teacher of the Mizpah class.

Guests came from far and near to help the couple celebrate the occasion. Besides their children, their 11 grandchildren were present. Left-Over Egg Yolk Recipes

By ALICE DENHOFF

WHAT to do to make best use of left-over egg yolks is always a big question with the good, careful housewife who refuses to waste even a smidgen of fine food. So here is a batch of egg yolk suggestions.

If the icebox yields one left-over yolk, then cook it until it is hard. Place it in a custard cup and set cup in pan of hot water; simmer over low heat for 15-20 min. Chill. When ready to use press yolk through sieve and use as a garnish on salty crackers. It makes a nice drink escort.

Paradise Pudding owes some of its goodness to egg yolks, two of them, to be specific! Cream together 2 tbsp. softened butter or margarine and 1/4 c. confectioners' sugar. Add 2 egg yolks, one at a time, beating until smooth. Whip 1/2 c. heavy cream until stiff; add one c. drained crushed pineapple and 1/4 c. chopped walnut meats. Finely roll enough graham crackers to make one c. fine crumbs. Place 1/2 c. crumbs in layer on bottom of a 9x5x3-inch loaf dish; cover with first mixture. Top with another 1/2 c. crumbs, then spread the whipped cream layer, topping with remaining crumbs. Chill several hours. Serves 4-6.

Duchess Custard to serve 4, requires 3 egg yolks. Scald 2 c. milk; add 1/4 c. sugar and 1/4 tsp. salt. Slightly beat 3 egg yolks; gradually add milk and 1/2 tsp. vanilla. Stir until well blended. Pour into 10x6x2-inch baking dish. Place dish in pan of hot water. Bake at 325 F. for 1 1/2 hours. Carefully sprinkle 1/2 c. sugar wafer crumbs on top; continue to bake for 1/2 hour longer. Serve warm or chilled with additional sugar wafers.
