LEAVE SOME INCENTIVE

Most of us have ambitions to be in business or to work for ourselves, but growing restrictions and higher taxes may dim this ambition for many a young American, more especially if the restrictions continue to be multiplied and if taxes continue to increase as they have in the past fifteen or twenty years. Included in the class who more or less are their own bosses are the business and professional man, the merchant, the farmer or rancher and an assortment of small operators who have so far been able to operate their business by their own rules and regulations.

We were interested in a statement credited Congressman Harris Ellsworth on his return from Europe recently where he made a study of socialized medicine as it is practiced in some countries there to the effect that the inefficient doctor is paid on the same basis as the best doctors and that there is little or no incentive for medical students to attain the highest skill, knowing that they can receive only so much under the socialized medical program.

Most of the important industries in England have already been nationalized and future heads of industries there won't be the industrial capitalists, but the ones who are the best politicians and the same thing has happened and is happening in other countries under a totalitarian government. What few business and professional men are left in England today because of the high taxes are little better off than the laborers.

The ancient question of "what's in it for me", can be truly answered "nothing son," if the present world trend continues except possibly a lot of risks and headaches.

Most of us realize that the best effort is put forth for high stakes and that big gains and high stakes are not possible in a legitimate way where there is too much state or national interference.

TECHNOLOGY ITS CAUSE

"Technology" got a lot of the blame for the economic dol-drum that made the thirties so depressing. "Machinery is what's putting so many out of work," people said.

In any future depression — whenever that may be, and we hope not soon — it is likely that some folks again will become incensed about mechanical juggernauts, without bothering to look behind the rapid march of mechanization and understand its chief cause.

Actually man's reliance upon the machine is speeded up by many years whenever wage rates go so high as to throw production costs out of line with consumer purchasing power. Take the railroads, for example. Before the war when labor was plentiful and reasonable, rail officials held back on buying expensive equipment for roadbed maintenance. Now, with high hourly rates and a forty-hour week in effect, the roads are turning more and more to machines. A recent survey showed, for example, that with common labor averaging $1.10 an hour a railroad could save as much as $2,850 a year for each $1,000 it invested in machinery for roadway upkeep.

NOT BY BREAD ALONE

Each year, during the third week in October, National Bible Week is observed. The 1949 observance will run from the 17th to the 23rd.

The week is designed to again focus attention on those basic principles of Christianity which much of the civilized world is supposed to live by — and which are so widely and tragically violated. Here in the United States, to say nothing of other nations, we have little to pride ourselves upon as Christians. We have the highest rate of crime and delinquency in our history — three times as many people are incarcerated in penal institutions as are attending universities and colleges. Eleven out of 12 young people are not active church members. Over 8,000,000 people are under treatment for mental disorders. Religions and morals are often openly ridiculed, and totalitarian principles, which are directly opposed to Christianity and all the other great religions as well, are advocated and taught. There has never been a time when so much cheap and tawdry entertainment — in books and magazines, and on the radio, stage and screen — was offered for sale, and it has a huge audience. Racial and class hatreds are rampant.

Looking at the international scene it is clear that the failure to live up to the basic ideals of Christianity has led to misery and despair for millions, to the enslavement of once-free peoples, to a cold war which is absorbing more and more of our energies, our thoughts, our resources. The world is moving swiftly toward a cynical materialism which may destroy it unless the trend is checked.

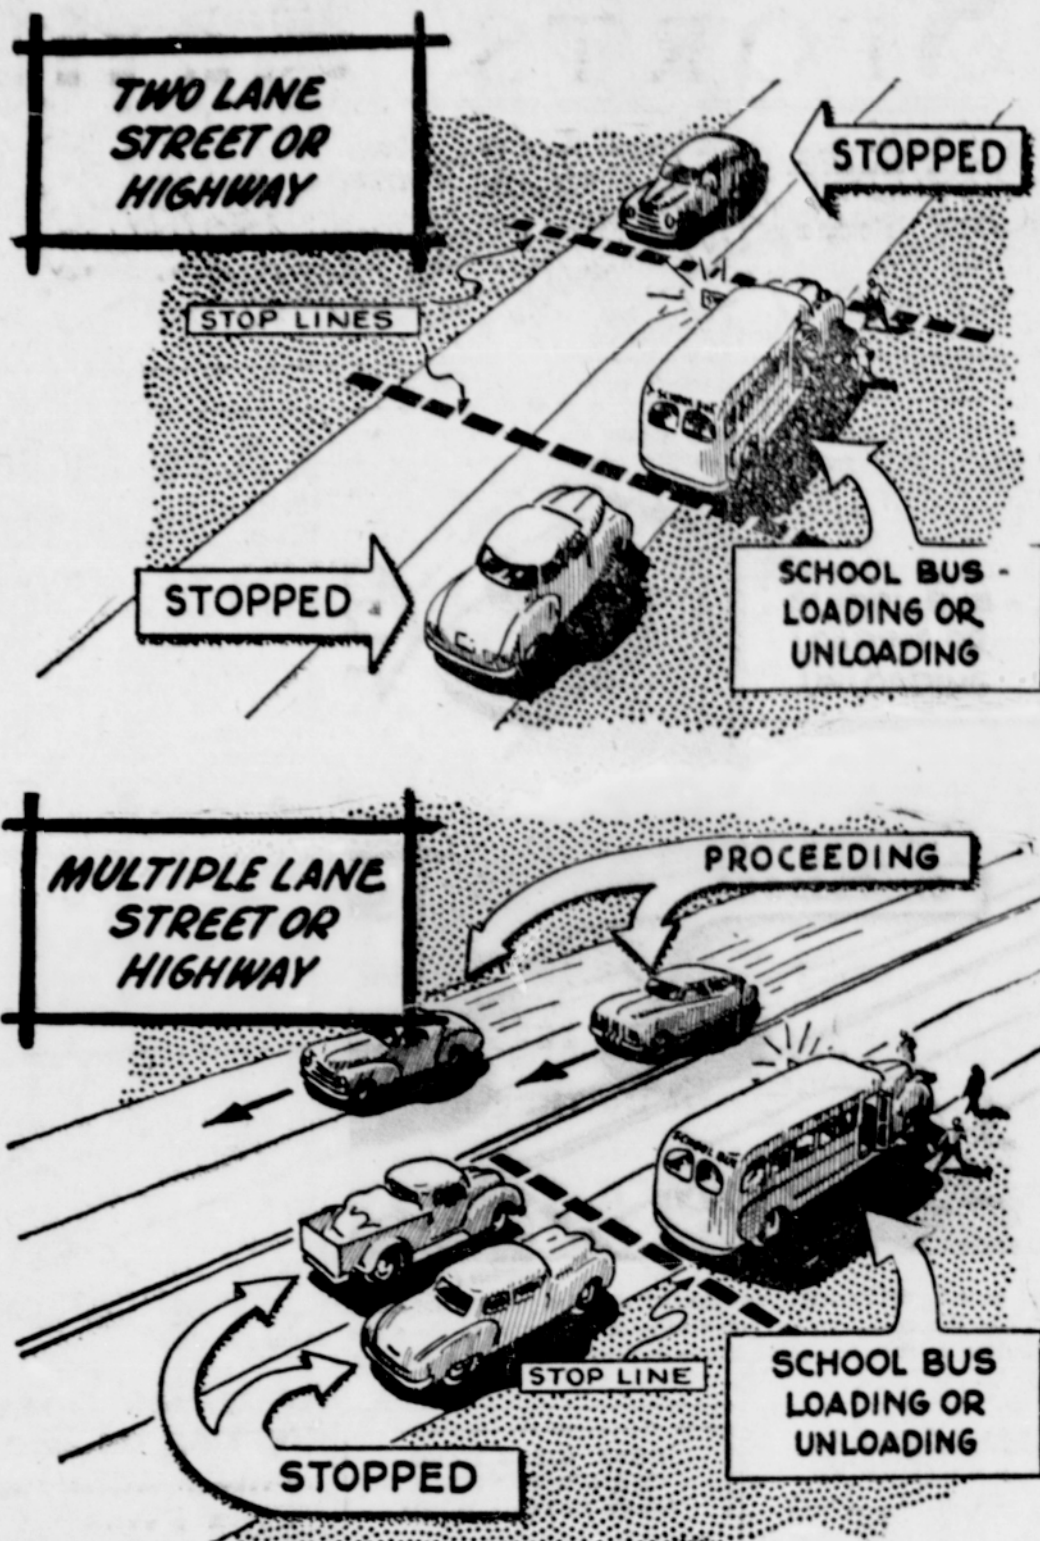

At a time like this, National Bible Week has a vast significance. In the great old phrase, "Man cannot live by bread alone."

ETERNAL SECRET

The oaks and the pines, and their brethren of the wood, have seen so many suns rise and set, so many seasons come and go, and so many generations pass into silence, that we may well wonder what "the story of the trees" would be to us if they had tongues to tell it, or we ears fine enough to understand.

Senator Wayne Morse's answer to at least a portion of the CIO organization on his stand on the CVA indicates that the Senator can have an independent thought, whether we can give him credit for it or not. The danger of subjecting our congressional representatives to so much pressure is that the representatives may neglect much legislation vital to the well being of all of us to put thru pet measures.

Stop for School Buses

Confused about Oregon's new school bus stopping law? This is the way it works. On a two-lane roadway, you must stop when meeting or overtaking a school bus which has halted to load or unload children. On roadways having three or more lanes, you must stop only if you're traveling in the same direction. After having stopped, you must not proceed as long as any children are leaving the bus or crossing the roadway. To assist in holding traffic while children cross the road, all buses are being equipped with red stop signal arms as rapidly as possible. You must stop for the bus whether or not the stop arm is displayed. Use of this signal by the bus driver simply indicates the situation requires you to remain stopped. The law applies equally to city streets and rural roads and highways.

The grading of the Goshen Substation Site is almost completed by Spada Bros. and K. C. Dack Construction Company. Materials will soon be arriving for the Eugene-Goshen 115 kv line, and the Kenzie-Goshen Section of the Lebon-Goshen 230 kv line, and the Goshen substation. BAN ON FISH TRAPS UPHELD
 Circuit Judge George P. Duncan ruled Monday at Salem that drug seines are legal in the Columbia river.

But he upheld the ban on fish traps and other fixed gear.

Judge Duncan's ruling declared unconstitutional part of the initiative measure which the people passed in the general election a year ago. That measure outlawed the seines and fish traps.

But Judge Duncan threw out that part of the initiative which applies to the seines because the Constitution provides that no law can deal with more than one subject.

DELIGHT VALLEY
 (Mrs. E. D. Sherrill, reporter phone 648R4)

Once more, the invitation to attend the shadow auction and box social at the Delight Valley school is extended to one and all. Remember the date, Saturday evening, Oct. 22, 1949. The program will start at 8:00 with auctioning beginning at approximately 9:00. Coffee and punch will be furnished.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. Norris and son, Paul, in company with Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Read of Springfield, were among the guests attending the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. George McQueen of Cottage Grove, on Sunday.

A heavy covering of frost on Wednesday marked the finish of most of the gardens in this vicinity and the ice along the edges of the water ponds reminds us that winter is just around the corner.

Francis Horn returned from eastern Oregon on Sunday from a very successful hunting trip, bringing back a fine, big buck.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Norris and son Iva, left the latter part of last week, after a brief stay in the valley, for their home in Warner, Alberta, Canada.

DORENA

(Mrs. Lot Wagner, Phone 815J1)

Elmer Wilson went fishing last week in the Umpqua. He caught a large salmon.

Opal Wagner returned Sunday from California where she has been visiting the last couple of weeks.

The Dorena school wishes to thank A. H. Stiener of Dorena Construction Co. for his donation to the school, which consisted of kindergarten material, and a nice record player, also several other articles.

Henry Kelly is finishing his house. He has a carpenter helping him.

Lot Wagner went with his son Robert to the coast fishing Tuesday, but the same old fish story — nary a bite.
