HOLIDAY WEDDING IN CHRISTMAS SETTING

A holiday wedding in a setting of holly and Christmas trees was that of Mrs. Rita Stacey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kelly, to Charles Edward Stroh, son of Mrs. Mary Stroh, all of Cottage Grove. They were married before the fireplace of their own home at 1603 East Madison street, Friday evening, December 23, at eight o'clock. The Rev. Frank Brown read the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a navy blue silk crepe suit with pink accessories and an orchid corsage.

Her attendant, Mrs. Audrey Albrecht, sister of the bridegroom, wore a wine color wool suit with white accessories and corsage of gardenias.

Calvin Stroh was best man for his brother.

A reception for the family and intimate friends was held following the ceremony. Mrs. Albrecht served the cake after the initial piece was cut by the couple. Mrs. Charles Morris, aunt of the bride, poured and Miss Cleo Stroh, niece of the bridegroom, was in charge of the guest book.

The couple spent the holidays on a wedding trip north, in Washington and Portland.

Women and Inventions

Although the greatest number of inventions by women are concerned with the home, recreation and beauty, women have branched out into fields once occupied solely by men. For example, a woman is the inventor of a device to lessen the noise of elevated trains and an appliance to consume smoke and odor from locomotives and factories.

Bahama's Wild Pigs

The wild pigs found on some Bahama Islands are not strictly land-based animals, like the domesticated swine in the United States. They often go to sea as well. They swim from island to island in search of food or to escape the dogs of hunters or natives, says the National Geographic society.

About Rugs

Wiltons and velvets are woven of woolen and worsted yarns. Woolen yarn has a coarser texture than the worsted. Frequently, they are both used—blended to combine advantages of both. In Axminster's woolen yarn is used because the weave is not tight enough to hold the less pliable worsted yarns with firmness.

Wettest Spot

The world's wettest spot is along the Assam hills in northeast India. There, observes the National Geographic society, the rain-carrying monsoons, or winds, from the west and southwest meet those blowing northward over the Bay of Bengal. Together they release a deluging rainfall that amounts of 50 or 60 feet a year, compared with a higher-than-average rate in the United States of only 50 inches.

Poultry Flocks

A laying mash and a grain mixture in separate feeders constantly before pullets for one to three months after housing will help keep poultry flocks in production as fall approaches.

New Olds Placed On Display Jan. 4

Making a bold and brilliant bid for another record-breaking year of sales, Oldsmobile Division of General Motors Corporation yesterday introduced its new 1950 line of Sixes and Eights at dealer showrooms throughout America. In the completely new "Futuramic Fleet" for '50 are nineteen models in three new series—the 6-cylinder "76" Series, and the new lower-priced 8-cylinder "88" and "98" Series entirely new in style and features. Highlights of the presentation are increased selectivity of advanced design body types and colors, many notable mechanical improvements, and the provision for standard transmission cars at lower prices in all three series to supplement the optional Hydramatic Drive models.

"The goal of Oldsmobile engineers and designers was to exceed previous standards of excellence which during the past year enabled Oldsmobile to climb to new heights in public favor," said S. E. Skinner, vice president of General Motors and general manager of the Oldsmobile Division. "With this outstanding 'Futuramic Fleet,' Oldsmobile is prepared to rocket ahead in 1950 with a minimum production of 350,000 units," he said.

Chief new item of the 1950 premier center around a new low price for Series "88" model, a completely restyled Series "98"; the introduction of Oldsmobile's New Whirlaway Hydramatic Drive; the offering of Holiday Coupe steel top convertibles in three distinct price ranges; the continued use of the sensational new high-compression "Rocket" Engine with no fundamental changes, but with some minor refinements promoting additional economy; and the widening of the market by making Oldsmobile's famous automatic transmission optional equipment at extra cost on new Series "88" and "98" models. For purchasers who do not order the New Whirlaway Hydramatic Drive, Oldsmobile has made available two synchromesh transmissions as standard equipment.

A smart new interpretation of Oldsmobile's traditional clean-line Futuramic styling has been given to each of the three new 1950 series, making it easy to distinguish between them. However, a unifying family resemblance is present in the massive front-end grouping of horizontal and gently curved lines. The new, broader grille slopes harmoniously into the lower fender corners and the wrap-around bumper and grille guards. Immediately above the grille and across the width of the hood is the name "Oldsmobile" in chrome capital letters of graceful design.

This G. M. division's well known world emblem is a centerpiece of beauty on the crown of the hood and below a modernistic "rocket ornament."
